LEGION HEAD HONORS CITY BY PRESENCE

LOWELL WILL WELCOME OWSLEY

American Legion Commander Comes This Afternoon as City's Honored Guest

Parade, Banquet and Big Public Meeting Will Feature Program

The patriotic fervor of Lowell's citizenry will witness a thrilling revival this afternoon and evening when Col. Alvin T. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion comes to be presented the keys of the city by Mayor John J. Donovan, to be the special guest of honor at a banquet in the Memorial Auditorium under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion, and to address a public gathering from the stage of the Memorial Auditorium at an elaborate reception in his honor.

COL. ALVIN T. OWSLEY

motored over the road to Boston with County Commander S. Curtis Garrity, Lowell Commander Captain Joseph A. Molloy and Historian John J. Walsh for the purpose of meeting Commander Owsley and escorting him to Lowell. They were expected to arrive in this city about 3 o'clock, accompanied by Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Thousands of Clerks Forsake Counter and Office for Sea Shore and Country on Occasion of Annual Holiday

READY TO LEAVE RAILROAD STATION FOR NANTASKET BEACH AND PEMBERTON INN

The most pronounced secession in the history of the city of Lowell's male and female store clerks, from the daily communion with bargaining shoppers, was witnessed early this morning when a large and happy contingent of Bon Marche, Gagnon, Polard, Pidler, Chailteux, Coburn, Nelson, Kreege, Bartlett and Dow, The Union Clerk and Suit Co. and drug store clerks, bade good-bye to the city of spindles and sought refuge for the day in the invigorating atmosphere along the Atlantic seaboard. It is the clerks' annual outing day.

Punctually marked the rhythmic departures of the various store organizations this morning. The several thousand clerks, awakened bright and early to the realization that their own "bargain" day was at hand, assembled at their allotted gathering places to await the signal to move. Optimism reigned supreme as an obliging July sun cast its inviting rays over the picture, presaging perfect climatic conditions for out-door recreation and amusement. Lifting voices, smiling countenances and happy hearts, prevalent during the earlier hours of the morning only made more conspicuous the somnolence which naturally pervaded the entire business section of the city upon their departure and during their limited absence.

The unusual exodus made Lowell a decidedly derelict municipality as "nobody worked but father," it seemed, and it is safe to wager that even he like the rest of us stay-at-homes, felt the call of this annual suspension of labor.

One of the more noticeable features of the numerous excursions today was

MAYOR SATISFIED WITH CONDITION OF CITY APPROPRIATIONS

Report of City Auditor for First Half of Year Shows Only Four Departments Running Ahead of Pro-rated Monthly Expenditures—School, Fire and Police Departments May Finish Year With Credit Balance

In his semi-annual financial statement of the city department appropriations issued today, City Auditor Martin sets forth figures showing that four of the departments, the ash and waste, isolation hospital, street maintenance and vocational school, will exceed their appropriations in 1923. If the expenditures for the remaining six months equal those of the first half year, on the other hand, figuring the last six months on the same basis of the first six months, the school department, fire department and police department will at the end of the year show a balance in their appropriations.

According to the figures of the auditor the school department will show an excess in its appropriation of $18,736.77. The appropriation for the department was $1,190,006.13. Of that amount $671,556.77 has been expended, leaving a balance on hand of $518,449.36. If the appropriation is figured on a 10-months' basis and allowances are made for fixed charges for July and August and using the average contingent expenses during the same period for the past five years, the department will finish the year with an excess in show a balance in their appropriations.

LAWYER ACCUSED OF BRIBING JUROR HELD

NEW YORK, July 12.—William J. Fallon, criminal lawyer, who was charged with bribing a juror in indictments returned July 2 by a federal grand jury, pleaded not guilty before Federal Judge Fitzhugh today and was released on $5000 bail. He was accused of having bribed Charles W. Rendigs, a juror, who also was indicted for conspiracy to defeat justice.

ASSESSORS WILL ELECT CHAIRMAN

The board of assessors will meet tomorrow or Saturday for the election of a chairman to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Daniel E. Hogan. As far as can be learned there is only one candidate for the position, John H. Dwyer, the senior member of the board, and it is believed his election will be unanimous.

INJUNCTION AGAINST 400,000 R. R. SHOPMEN MADE PERMANENT

Final Decree Making Permanent the Temporary Injunction Obtained by U. S. Government Oct. 5, 1922 Entered Today By Federal Judge Wilkerson—Most Widespread Restraining Order on Record

CHICAGO, July 12.—(By the Associated Press) A final decree making permanent the temporary injunction obtained by the United States government in federal court here, October 5, 1922, against the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, its officers and others, restraining them from interfering in any manner with the operation of railroads, during the nation-wide shopmen's strike, was entered today by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

The injunction, which is considered the most widespread restraining order ever obtained, affects approximately 400,000 railroad employees and officers of the shop crafts concerned in the strike. Theoretically, the strike still is in

For Lowell surely was a deserted village this afternoon, when the Lowell Ad club members and their friends left the city in an automobile caravan shortly after the noon hour, departing noisily, but happily, with plenty of wholesome enjoyment ahead.

The start was made at noon from the vicinity of the Casino. The automobiles parked on Thordike and Middlesex streets awaited the word to start and then trailed each other along Middlesex street and through

KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

New York Man Hurlled to Death When Catapulted From Car in New Bedford

NEW BEDFORD, July 12.—John Jackson, of New York city, was instantly killed shortly before noon when he was catapulted from the automobile he was driving, landing head first in the middle of the road at Hamilton's corner. Mr. Jackson was the guest of Arthur W. White, 294 Washington street, Roxbury, Mass., who was badly cut about the face and sustained an injury to one of his legs. Mr. White gave a short account of the accident to Dr. Albert Clark, stating that Jackson clamped on the brakes suddenly, and the next minute he lay stunned in the rumble of the car, which was overturned.

Stacy R. Taylor, driver of a coal truck, was directly in front of the car driven by Jackson when the smash came and it is thought that in attempting to avoid running into the truck, Jackson jammed on the brakes too quickly but not sufficient to prevent striking the other machine.

SPRINGFIELD MAYOR WARNS STRIKERS

SPRINGFIELD, July 12.—Further gatherings of striking telephone operators, such as the one of last night, which culminated in a riotous outbreak near the telephone building later in the evening, "will have to be prevented if they are what they are going to lead to," said Mayor E. F. Leonard today in referring to the clash. The six persons arrested last night pleaded not guilty in district court today, to charges ranging from assault upon an officer to profanity.

BUSINESS SECTION OF COHASSET MENACED

COHASSET, July 12.—The business district of this town was threatened for a time today by fire which destroyed the Harber garage at Elm and Main streets, owned by Alfred Silebi. Half a dozen automobiles were ruined, and two persons were slightly injured when the explosion of a gasoline tank scattered the flames, but no one was seriously hurt. Help was sent from nearby towns and the fire was extinguished without spreading to other buildings. The loss is estimated at about $15,000.

MOVE TO UNIONIZE 100,000 STEEL WORKERS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 12.—A campaign to unionize the 100,000 steel workers in the Cleveland district stretching from Buffalo to Toledo, started today with the arrival of William Hannon, secretary-treasurer of the executive council of national and international organizations in the steel industry.

IMPROVEMENT IN TELEPHONE SERVICE

BOSTON, July 12.—Continued increase in the operating forces affected by the strike of telephone operators in five states were reported today by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. At noon neither company nor union had accepted the invitation of mayors of eight cities to confer with them in Providence tomorrow to devise means for settling the strike, called on June 26 to enforce demands for increased pay and a seven hour working day.

At strikers' headquarters it was said that the conference after probably would be accepted as the executive committee had convened. Union officials asserted that the company was maintaining service in many places by employing traffic men in 24 hour shifts to supervise untrained operators.

Lowell Druggists Have Gala Day at Hampton Beach

LOWELL DRUGGISTS AND CLERKS AWAITING TRANSPORTATION TO HAMPTON BEACH

The members of the Lowell Druggists' Association were also "bitten" by the outing bug today. Drug stores were closed at 9:30 o'clock and half an hour later all boarded 40 automobiles provided for their convenience. Together with the proprietors of the stores were their clerks and invited guests, numbering about 225. The machines left Palace street shortly after 10 o'clock for Hampton beach.

Upon arrival at the beach, shortly after noon, the druggists immediately went to the Ashworth hotel where dinner tables had been reserved for them. Sports and games were on schedule for the afternoon in a program of sports.

There were races for the junior clerks, senior clerks and proprietors and a cigar race for the proprietors was one of the feature events and there were plenty of "smokes" at its conclusion. A large number of the party went in bathing and still other members were lured to the dance floor. The return trip will be made late in the evening. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Frank Finnerty, William Noonan, Charles Devenaux, John Walsh, Lucien Brunelle and Fred Jones.

JONES TWO OVER PAR INJUNCTION GRANTED

Cruickshank, His Partner, One Under—Scores in Qualifying Round at Inwood

INWOOD, N. Y., July 12.—(By the Associated Press) Bobby Jones was two over par for the first six holes of his morning round in qualifying play for the national open golf championship. Bob Cruickshank, his partner, was one under.

Jones had par fours on the first two but got into trouble on the par five. His mashie shot found a sand pit guarding the green and he took two strokes to get out, with three putts for a seven. The fourth he negotiated in par, but found the rough with his brassie on the sixth. He pitched into another trap and holed out in two for a six, one over par.

Jesse P. Gullford, Boston amateur, went out in 41, running par on all but the second and seventh holes, where he went one over and the par four eighth, where he needed six.

Eddie Held of the Algonquin club in Webster Groves, Mo., went to pieces on the first nine, taking seven on the par five and one over par on the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth, but recovered coming home, making a par 35. He went one over on the 12th, but had a birdie three on the 17th.

Charles F. Loomis of Columbus, Ohio, and R. F. O'Neill were the first of the final qualifying field to tee off. They were closely followed by Eddie Held of Algonquin, Mo., and Eugene McCarthy of Green Valley, Va.

Cruickshank had a birdie three on the second. Although he was being out-driven by the Atlanta youth, Cruickshank's second shots were more accurate, and he had better luck with his putts. Jones rimmed the cup on the second with a 12-foot putt, losing a birdie three and the same thing happened to a 20-foot putt on the fourth. Jones was one over par with a four in the short seventh, his chip being short. He played the eighth and ninth for a card of 40. Cruickshank took a five on the par four eighth hole, the only hole excepting the seventh in which he was over par.

Jones, the master driver, outdistanced his professional partner from the tee by 16 to 50 yards but Cruickshank was extraordinarily accurate with his iron and found the greens when Jones found traps. Jones was one over par on the 11th and 13th holes coming in and was par on all the others. Cruickshank was one over par on the 11th and 13th but sunk a 12 foot putt for a birdie four on the 14th.

Long Jim Barnes, open champion in 1921, turned his first nine in 35, one under par. He was one over on the first hole, but had a birdie three on the second and a birdie four on the fourth sinking 15 foot putts on both holes.

George Aulbach of Boston took 41 for the first nine holes, taking one more than par on the long third where he scored a six and the short seventh which required four. On the par three seventh he went two over, being trapped in a pit guarding the green.

TO INVESTIGATE SOURCES OF WATER SUPPLY

BOSTON, July 12.—The proposal to use the valleys of the Ware and Swift rivers as a source of water supply for metropolitan Boston, will be investigated by the state legislative committee on water supply in the course of the summer recess. Members of the committee, after surveying sources of water supply in Lawrence and Methuen next week, will go to Central and western Massachusetts to obtain information regarding the Ware and Swift river project. The undertaking, planned on the pre-war basis, would cost $50,000,000 and would necessitate the wiping out of several communities. Other water supply sources in western Massachusetts also will be surveyed.

BEER SELLERS ESCAPE WITH LIGHT FINES

Judge Knight does not view beer in the same category as whiskey, although technically the sale of beer is a violation of the law. For that reason the court split in halves the usual fine imposed in liquor violation cases, and assessed Thomas O'Sullivan and Adelard Sylvester only $50 each in district court this morning. Instead of $100.

Both men pleaded guilty to the charges preferred against them, that of keeping liquor with intent to sell. "Beer isn't like that deadly moonshine," said Judge Knight. "But keeping beer with intent to sell is a violation of the law, however, and I must take responsibility of it."

Dennis J. Donohue was also charged with keeping beer with intent to sell, but he contended that it was not for sale, that he had it simply for himself and one or two friends. His case was continued for disposition until July 28.

CAMOUFLAGED ROBBERS GET JAIL SENTENCE

Edgar El Rock and Leo Ayotte attempted to portray the role of desperadoes last night, and with a stick of wood camouflaged as a revolver, ordered a roomer in the Good hotel to throw up his hands. Instead, the lodger threw up his voice and the would-be hold-up men were arrested.

Rock and Ayotte climbed out on a fire escape, the court was informed, and went to an open window. In the room a man was sleeping. He was awakened and saw one of the two young men pointing the stick of wood at him, and at the same time ordering him to "come across." He yelled, and the two defendants were caught before they could get away.

Each was sentenced to serve three months in jail by Judge Knight today. They appealed and were held in bonds of $800 each.

Mayor Satisfied With Conditions

its appropriation of the amount above-mentioned.

The fire department appropriation was $402,100, and of that amount $198,408.51 has been expended, leaving a balance on hand of $203,691.49. Figuring on a straight line for the remainder of the year the department will be $2,282.16 to the good. The appropriation for the police department was $355,550, of which $128,000 has been expended, leaving a balance of $227,550. Figuring on the same basis as the other departments, the department's balance at the end of the year will be $11,369.22.

The information concerning the departments, which it is believed, will have a deficit at the end of the year, is given in the following letter sent by the auditor to the mayor this morning:

July 12, 1923.

Hon. John J. Donohue, Mayor.

Dear Mr. Mayor:—For your information and guidance I am attaching herewith a semi-annual statement of the appropriations of the various departments. It is my opinion that the departments, as a whole, are endeavoring to live within their appropriations. While there were some 20 odd appropriations which would show a possible deficit at the end of six months, it is my opinion that in the majority of these departments which are, in such condition that they cannot possibly continue through the year without a deficit.

One of the appropriations referred to in the foregoing paragraph is the cash and waste department, with an appropriation of $55,000. Expenditures have been $45,755.92 for the first six months, leaving a balance of $9,244.08. This can readily be perceived that if the same conditions exist in this department for the next six months that have been present the first half of the year, there will be a possible deficit of some $12,500.

Another appropriation that appears to have been spent in excess of the allowance for the first six months is the isolation hospital, which is under the jurisdiction of the board of health. Their appropriation was originally granted at $53,202.20 and inasmuch as they have already spent $41,525.05 for maintenance during the first six months, they have left a balance of $11,677.15 to continue during the remainder of the year. As in the case of the cash and waste department, in the past, they will overrun about $10,447.20.

The third and final appropriation which shows expenditures in excess of the first six months is the street department appropriation. No doubt this was occasioned by the heavy snowfall during the first part of the year which was absolutely unaccounted for beyond the control of the department. The appropriation was originally granted for the year was $358,505; the expenditures for the first six months amount to $300,374.4, leaving a balance of $158,130.56. If the department continues to spend in the same proportion during the latter part of the year as they have during the first six months, there will be a possible deficit of $40,369.44.

Relative to the water department appropriation, while it is true that this department is entitled to their receipts, nevertheless the city council awarded the water works department an appropriation of $345,250.37 for the year 1923. The first six months of the year cost $190,275.55 to maintain the department, leaving a balance in the appropriation of $154,974.82. Should the water department continue to expend as they have in the first six months, they will exceed their appropriation by some $26,000.

As you are well aware, last year the water department was asked upon an appropriation basis for the purpose of liquidating a deficit which has existed in the department for the last three or four years and if they continue to spend regardless of their appropriations, they will continue to exist as a department with a deficit as there is still outstanding deficit from other years of $17,565.07.

It may be permitted to repeat, although there are some other departments which show expenditures in excess of six months allotment, still it is my opinion in the opinion of the departments are informed of their condition they may readily adjust their budgets to live within granted appropriations.

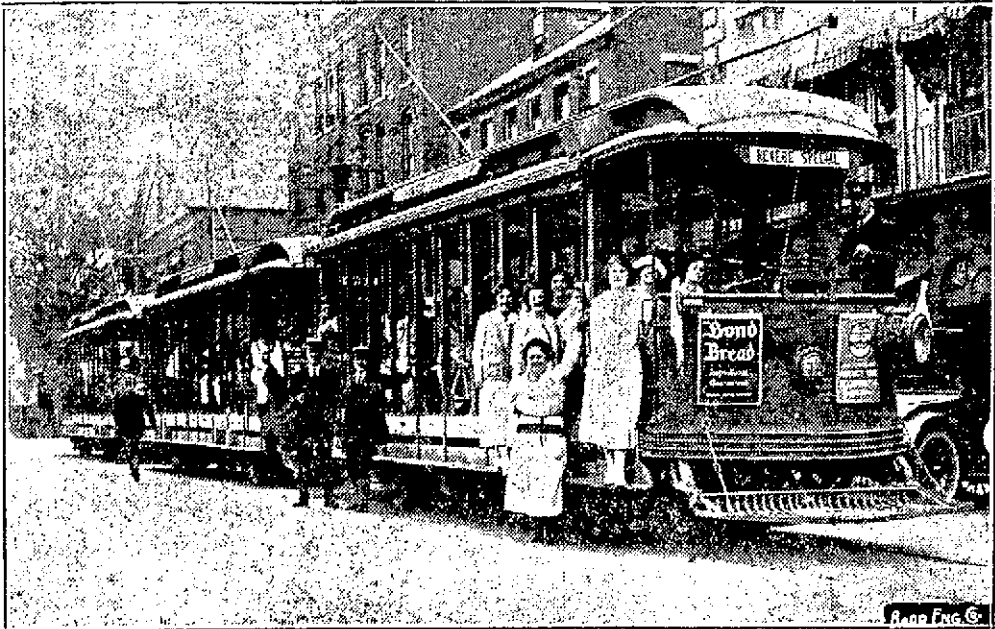

Trusting the above gives you the desired information, I beg to remain, Respectfully,

PAN E. MARTIN,
City Auditor.

Comments upon the report this morning, Mayor Donohue stated that he was very much pleased with existing conditions, which show that the heads of various departments are endeavoring to co-operate with the chief executive in the administration of the city's affairs.

TRUCK LOAD OF THE HAPPY FIDLER FAMILY

ONE OF POLLARD ELECTRICS WITH NOSE TURNED REVERE-WARD

Gala Day for Lowell Clerks

Continued

The democratic spirit which prevailed among the clerks and their superiors, for the majority of the picnicers were accompanied by the heads of departments on this celebrated occasion. Miss Smith, of the ribbon counter, outstayed her welcome at the house of executive office and at the seashore Johnny Walker, the errand boy, splashed about in Nature's element with his erudite companion in pleasure. Mr. Jones, the head buyer, it was principally because of this fraternizing spirit that closer relationships were found and a day of genuine enjoyment made possible.

Pollard Clerks at Revere

The evacuation of the city got under way shortly after 5 o'clock, when the A. G. Pollard Co. clerks boarded special electric for Revere. The trip through the neighboring towns was thoroughly enjoyed by the light-hearted contingent and upon arrival at the beach, the day's program was officially begun. Bathing, dancing and games were in order and at noon, the Hotel Pleasanton was invaded and an appetizing shore dinner enjoyed. William Tucker, John Tuohy, Joseph Flannery, John Orrell and Mildred O'Connor were in charge.

A coterie of automobiles conveyed the clerks of the Boston Ladies' Outfitters to Hampton beach. The familiar "Conch" Fidler was in charge of his clerks and with the capable assistance of volunteers, he provided a day of unique enjoyment for each of his many employees. The Outfitters left behind a K-15, outfitted with anti-gloom implements and motored over the road in fast order.

At 5:45 o'clock a special car fit Revere found Chalifoux's clerks seeking passage. Like their neighbors from Pollard's, they relished a shore dinner at the Pleasanton at noon and exchanged greetings on Ocean Avenue with their companions from home. A. A. Burns, Louis Cole, Henry Chuput and Edward Desjardins comprised the committee in charge.

Off For Nantasket

When the 8:01 train pulled out of the Middlesex street station, it had as passengers, the smiling clerks of the Bon Marche and the Gagnon company. Both outfits went as far as Boston on this train, the Bon Marche separating in the Hub and boarding the Nantasket steamship for Pemberton. The committee in charge of an elaborate program of sports was composed of Miss Bridle Walsh, assisted by John Foley, P. J. Duval, Katherine Sparks, Lester Hoyt, Al. Kline, Gerald Duval, Guy Hunter, Carl Rice, Francis Burns and Jean Giroux.

The Gagnon employees continued on their joyous voyage to Nantasket, and upon arrival at a bountiful dinner at the Nantasket House. They were in charge of Emil Gagnon, Rosa Roussell, Michael McInerney, James Saunders, Bertha Souder, George Lanctot and Clara Breault. The afternoon was spent in patronizing the various amusements, in swimming and in sports of every description.

The annual off-day of the P. E. Nelson clerks was spent at Revere, which assumed a decidedly local appearance with the large assemblage of Lowellites on boulevard and sand. The efficient committee in charge of the affair is composed of Josephine Wynn and Miss Katherine Creagan. Salisbury beach was the meek of the Valley Textile employees. Automobiles were used for transportation and the day's activities were directed by Manager Michael Vendt, who acted as host to the gathering.

The C. B. Coburn Co. was attracted to Lake Baboisc, Amherst, N. H. The employees left the Market street establishment shortly after 5 o'clock. Refreshments were furnished by the company and a feature of the sporting contests was a bowling match between teams led by Annette Gerard and Helen Kibbole, who were assisted in arranging the lengthy program by Florence Brown and George Kivlin.

The employees of Bartlett & Dow enjoyed the rare day at Nantasket, while the 20th Century Shoe Co. took in style show in Boston and later visited Lynn and Revere.

The S. S. Kresge employees sought more local environment and spent the day at Lakewood. Several smaller outings were held at nearby resorts and in all cases joviality held sway. July 12, 1923, will go down in the annals of Lowell's busy business marts as a day of days, memorable in every respect. In most instances, the return trips of the tired but contented clerks will be started before dusk this evening.

CHURCH OF ALL NATIONS AT DALE

The Church of All Nations held its outing today at Willow Dale instead of tomorrow, as originally planned. Two special cars were required to carry the members and they left the church early this morning. The day will be occupied with sports, bathing and bathing and the return trip will be made shortly before 6 o'clock.

DAY OF PLEASURE AT CANOBIE LAKE

The first annual outing for the members of St. Jeanne d'Arc parish in Dartmouthville was held at Canobie Lake park today with an attendance of nearly 500. The arrangements for the affair were in charge of Rev. Aurelian Merrill, O.M.I., who spared no time nor efforts to make it one of enjoyment for all.

The excursionists, consisting of men, women and children, gathered at the junction of Moody street and Fourth Ave. at 5 o'clock and a half hour later boarded four large electric cars, which conveyed them to the outing grounds. Upon reaching the park the younger element hurried to the athletic field, where the following athletic and sporting program was carried out, suitable prizes being awarded the winners: 100-yard dash, half-mile race, 50-yard bag race, 35-yard backward race, three-legged race, shoe race, tug of war, dipper race. All these events were opened to all. In addition there were races for boys and other events for women.

At noon a basket dinner was enjoyed and in the afternoon more events were carried out. Judging by the success of the affair, it is fair to assume that the event will be an annual affair in the parish from now on. Rev. Leon Lemoine, O.M.I., the pastor, was in attendance with Rev. Fr. Merrill.

CHOIR MEMBERS AT HAMPTON BEACH

There was music galore at Hampton beach today, for the members of St. Jean Baptiste church choir held their annual outing there. The affair was a success in every way and provided great enjoyment for all who attended.

The party of excursionists left at 5 o'clock this morning and were conveyed to the shore in automobiles furnished by A. G. Leveille, Octave Lamontagne, Meely McDannia, J. B. Rochette, D. Bonvier, Joseph Albert, Amador Chambault, J. R. Pelletier, Merrill Davis and Emil Lemoine.

At the beach a ball game was played between two picked teams of the choir and later sporting events were conducted. At noon dinner was served at the Casino and the afternoon was devoted to more athletic events and sight-seeing. The party was scheduled to leave the beach at 4 o'clock and journey back to Lowell by way of Swampscott, where supper was served. The arrangements were in charge of R. E. Pepin, director and organist.

POLICE CHIEF CALLED IN WARD-PETERS CASE

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 12.—Frank Cody, chief of police of New Rochelle, was today recalled before the grand jury investigating the killing of Clarence Peters by Walter S. Ward.

It was understood that he would be asked to make a positive identification of two pistols that figured in the tragedy. One weapon was owned by Ward and the other by Peters.

POLICEMEN AND BANDITS IN RUNNING GUN FIGHT

NEW YORK, July 12.—Five policemen and six bandits early today engaged in a running pistol fight in the Bronx, after the bandits had hurled a milk can through a plate glass window in a silk store, passed out $7000 worth of loot and escaped in an automobile. The police believe they wounded two of the bandits.

DEATHS

PHILLIPS.—Mrs. Carrie P. Phillips, a resident of this city for the past 12 years, passed away early this morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. G. Lang, 559 Fletcher street, at the age of 30 years, 1 month and 8 days. She is survived by her husband, Russell P. Phillips and her sister, Mrs. Lang of this city. Her father, Cook B. Wheeler and a brother, Donald Wheeler of Florenceville, New Brunswick. Her body was removed to Saunders' Funeral home, 217 Appleton street.

FUNERALS

LEBUC.—The funeral of Marie Therese Lebuc, daughter of Joseph and Gracia (Gauthier) Lebuc, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents, 5 Joliette avenue. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of Funeral Director Joseph Albert.

FUNERAL NOTICES

PHILLIPS.—Died in this city, July 12, at the home of her sister, 559 Fletcher street, Mrs. Carrie P. Phillips. Funeral services at Saunders' Funeral home, 217 Appleton street, on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends are respectfully invited. Burial at Florenceville, New Brunswick, under the direction of William H. Saunders in charge.

GONE TO QUEBEC

Mrs. Albert Hamel, wife of Albert Hamel, foreman of The Sun stereotype department, with her three children, left today for Quebec, where she will spend the next two months, as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Damase Grogier, formerly of Lowell.

PAINE QUILTS HIS FEDERATION POST

Directors Defer Action on Resignation Until Full
Board Convenes

Plans to Preach at Trinity
Church Sunday — Final
Word From Lt. Hague

BOSTON, July 12.—Explaining that his action was solely to free the hand of the Greater Boston Federation of Churches, Rev. George L. Paine of Cambridge, who was punched by Lieut. Wesley McLaren Hague, U.S.N., Monday, for kissing the latter's wife, yesterday tendered his resignation as executive secretary of the federation.

This action was taken at a special meeting of the board of directors of the federation, called at the Boston City club yesterday afternoon by Mr. Paine himself. Rev. Ernest G. Guthrie, president of the federation, returned to Boston from Centerville, on Cape Cod, to attend.

The conference, held behind closed doors, lasted more than four hours, and at its conclusion announcement was made that in view of the fact that some members are on their vacations, no action upon Mr. Paine's resignation ought to be taken until a meeting of the full board can be held.

Plans to Preach Sunday

The situation remains unchanged with regard to whether Mr. Paine will preach on Sunday in Trinity church, where he is scheduled to fill the pulpit of Rev. Dr. Henry K. Sherrill who is now in Ridgefield, Conn. Mr. Paine has reiterated his intention of preaching at Trinity church, as if nothing out of the ordinary had occurred, saying that Dr. Sherrill himself, when acquainted with the situation, told him to make no change in the plan.

An effort to reach Dr. Sherrill at Ridgefield proved fruitless, but Harry E. Miller, sexton of Trinity church, stated last night that he had received no word of any change in the program and that unless otherwise directed, he should send the advertisements announcing Mr. Paine as preacher to the newspapers today.

Text of Resignation

Mr. Paine's resignation, which was dated yesterday, read as follows:

"To the Board of Directors of the Greater Boston Federation of Churches: Gentlemen and Brethren—My chief desire is to help the Greater Boston Federation of Churches at the present time, and, feeling that it and not I should determine my fitness to continue in office, I herewith tender my resignation as executive secretary. I want it understood that this tender on my part in no wise expresses my own judgment in the matter, but is solely to free the hands of the directors of the federation."

Statement by Directors

The resignation was handed in in person by Mr. Paine, who was present at the early part of the meeting. After much discussion by the 14 directors who attended, the following statement was agreed upon unanimously and given out to the newspapermen, who waited in the corridor for four hours.

"It was the sense of that portion of the board present that action upon this communication should be taken at a meeting of the whole board, duly called for that purpose. Those present greatly deplored the conduct, frankly and publicly acknowledged by Mr. Paine. In view of his splendid record of life service and unimpeached probity they express for him the Christian and friendly consideration of the public."

Rev. Fletcher D. Parker, who gave this statement out at the conclusion of the meeting, explained that in view of the unusual nature of the case nothing else could be said at this time. Neither

Newer Form of Iron Quickly Increases 'Pep' Strength and Energy

"You cannot be well and strong, and full of vigor, force and power unless your blood is rich in iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician Bellevue Hospital (Out-Door Department), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "It is your red blood that enables you to resist and overcome disease and that nourishes every organ in your body. Without iron your blood becomes thin, pale and watery. Poor blood cannot nourish your vital organs and as a result you may have pains in your heart or kidneys, indigestion, headaches, and feel all run-down and tired-out."

When your blood lacks iron do not waste your time taking stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, but directly enrich your blood with the newer form of iron sold by all druggists under the name of Nuxated Iron which is like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, and is in a form easily assimilated into your blood.

Get a bottle of Nuxated Iron today. Take it for two weeks and if you have not, like thousands of others, obtained most surprising health, strength and energy, the manufacturers will promptly refund your money. The following local druggists will sell you Nuxated Iron with this "satisfaction or money back" guarantee.—Adv.

is it possible to say now, just how soon a meeting of the whole board can be arranged, because so many of the members are out of town.

"All that we can ask at the present time," said Dr. Guthrie, "is that the whole unfortunate affair be forgotten for the time being."

Whatever the opinions of the 14 directors present yesterday may have been the expressions and demeanor of the majority upon their final departure seemed to indicate satisfaction in the course finally decided upon.

Lieut. Hague's "Final Word"

Before leaving Boston with his bride, as he plans to do today in order to sail tomorrow from New York for the Pacific coast, Lieut. Hague issued a statement, which he declares to be his final one, saying that no legal action of any sort is contemplated against the minister, and that he has no apologies whatever to offer for his attack upon the minister. Lieut. Hague's statement, which is made at the instigation of his attorney and personal friend, George H. Hudson, follows:

"My attitude in Mr. Paine's office was the direct result of his repeated attempts to kiss my wife in spite of her protests and active opposition which constitute and insult no man in honor could overlook. I have absolutely no excuse to offer for my actions in his office and the suggestion that I apologize to him is absolutely absurd. I have no intention of apologizing as suggested in the postscript of his apology to my wife and Mrs. Hague of course has no intention of doing so. I consider that I did what any man would do who found himself in a similar predicament. My only thought at any time has been to uphold my wife's honor and this episode has simply endeared her more to me."

Shattered Her Ideal

"I consistently refrained from talking to newspapermen relative to the matter until I was assured that the Rev. Mr. Paine has talked at length about his actions, and then in defense of my wife's honor I told my side of the story."

"The terrible and enduring wrong which Mr. Paine has done us is in the shattering of Mrs. Hague's ideal of the minister who baptized her and united us in holy matrimony. This is irremediable. Money damages cannot reconstruct those ideals, hence neither Mrs. Hague nor I contemplate civil action against Dr. Paine; and for fear that the public may think I have any mercenary motives in this matter, I wish to have it understood that I have received as much satisfaction as I desire, and the fact that the Rev. Mr. Paine has received such publicity in my opinion has punished him more than any court action that I might take."

Wife's Honor Vindicated

"I have been asked to divulge the contents of letters from the people in this vicinity who have been kind enough to write me during the past few days. These are personal letters which I cannot give to the press without the consent of the writers. I feel that my wife's honor has been completely vindicated by Mr. Paine's own statement and I feel that any one who may read them would reach that conclusion."

"This is my final statement in the case. Regardless of what any one may say, the public knows the story and nothing could be gained by further comment on my part. We sail from New York the latter part of this week for the west coast, where I was detailed prior to this incident. During the 30-day voyage, we will do our best to forget the affair and neither Mrs. Hague nor I have any personal interest in the action of the diocesan authorities or the Federation of Churches. We trust the public will deal as leniently as possible with this erring gentleman."

Vaccinate Every Passenger on Train

RICHMOND, Va., July 12.—Local health officers treated passengers in the car of a Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac train to free vaccination yesterday after taking charge of Frank Sumner, negro, who was said to be suffering from smallpox. Boarding the train at Acca, near here, the officers removed Sumner from the car, declared a temporary quarantine, and proceeded to vaccinate every passenger in it.

COMMITTEE TO VISIT LOWELL

Legislative Body on Water Supply May Come Here Next Wednesday

Will Inspect Lowell Wells and Filters and Inspect Possible Sources

(Special to The Sun) BOSTON, July 12.—The joint standing committee on water supply of the legislature, which was directed to continue the study of water supply resources, with particular reference to the further development of the system in metropolitan Boston, by taking the waters of the Ware and Swift rivers, will begin its investigation with an inspection of the various proposed sources of supply, not only in the valleys of the Ware and Swift, but in other parts of the state where there are projected developments independent of the Metropolitan district.

Primarily the purpose of the committee is to study the question whether it might not be possible to bring the Metropolitan water supply up to the requirements of future years without resorting to the plan of utilizing the Ware and Swift rivers, as recommended by the joint board that produced that scheme, to which there is much opposition on the part of interested parties in that section of the state.

First, the committee will give its attention to the necessities of an additional water supply for Lawrence and Methuen, for which there are several proposed sources. These prospects will be inspected by the committee on Thursday and Wednesday of next week, details of the trip to be announced later.

Leaving the state house Tuesday morning, the committee will stop at the site of a proposed dam at Foster's pond and Ballardsville in Andover and will also visit Targert's pond and Fish Brook. Thence it will inspect the Merrimack water system, visiting Harris pond and the proposed Bartlett Brook reservoir, also Richardson brook in Deerpark.

Probably on Wednesday morning the committee will take in the Lowell filters and wells, Salmon brook in Dunstable, the Suncook river and Mifflin brook in Townsend and Lunenburg, which are also a part of the plan of additional supply for Lawrence and Methuen.

At the close of the week of July 23 will be spent by the committee in conference with the legislature in connection with the Ware and Swift rivers.

A distinguished engineer to be at the service of the committee, who has had no part in the investigation that led up to the pending project, will be appointed later by the governor.

GOV. COX REFUSES TO STAY EXECUTION

BOSTON, July 12.—Governor Cox yesterday declined taking any action to stay the execution of Paul Pappas, alias Pappas, who has been sentenced to die for the murder of Mrs. Alice Arsenault, a lodging house keeper of this city. Since his conviction a long fight has been waged and three separate motions for a new trial have been heard and denied.

Pappas latest reprieve expired at midnight last night. In a statement last night, Governor Cox said: "On June 1922, Paul Pappas, alias Pappas, was convicted by a Suffolk county jury of the murder in the first degree of Alice Arsenault and on Jan. 16, 1923, was sentenced to death. Since the jury verdict three separate motions for a new trial have been filed and heard by the justice who presided at the trial and each denied. The case has been before the supreme judicial court three times and each time decision adverse to the Pappas contention has been given."

After recognizing the discovery of the lodging house proprietor's body in a pile of ashes in a Columbus avenue cellar, the statement concluded:

"Although the defendant has written me maintaining his innocence, he has offered no word of explanation to support it. On every occasion requested I have conferred with the defendant's counsel and others interested in the case, and have carefully considered their pleas for leniency. I have reviewed the court proceedings, as well as read much of the evidence in the case. I am convinced that Pappas had a fair trial before a judge and jury. There is therefore no justification for interference with the verdict of the jury and sentence by the court."

Registration Certificates of Two Other Lowell People Are Revoked

(Special to The Sun) BOSTON, July 12.—The state registrar of motor vehicles has suspended the license to operate motor vehicles of Harvey E. Chambers of 1439 Middlesex street, Lowell, as he has reason to believe that Chambers operated a motor vehicle after drinking intoxicating liquor.

Also believing that Charles M. Nugent of 13 L street, Lowell, operated a motor vehicle after drinking intoxicating liquor, the registrar has decided that he is not the proper person to operate motor vehicles and has suspended his license to operate.

A motor vehicle owned by William C. Denis of 8 Rockdale avenue, Lowell, is improperly equipped as to lights and the registrar has revoked Denis' registration certificate.

A motor vehicle owned by Rose S. Nugent of 13 L street, Lowell, is not properly equipped with lights. Her registration certificate has been revoked.

Harry C. Wildner of 608 Westford street, Lowell, on June 10 operated a motor vehicle improperly in Wayland. His right to operate has been suspended.

Hugh P. Finselson of 155 Lowell street, Methuen, is not a proper person to operate motor vehicles and his license to operate has been suspended.

Leonard P. Belanger of 145 Arlington street, Braintree, was the operator of a motor vehicle which was involved in an accident which resulted in the death of Lea Claude of Lowell. His license to operate has been suspended.

FIREWORKS EXPLOSIONS CRAZE WAR PATIENT

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 12.—Arthur Maynard of New Bedford, a shell-shocked World War veteran, ran amok in the American Legion drug store in Syracuse, attacked a stenographer with a chair and broke windows with his hat before he was controlled. He was under treatment for a nervous trouble at the Red Cross headquarters and told them that the sound of explosions July 1 had greatly intensified his sufferings.

He was unable to give accounts of his troubles since leaving New Bedford, but made most of the route by lifts in passing automobiles. He is well supplied with money, but is suffering from partial loss of memory. He will be returned to New Bedford, where he is employed in a cotton broker's office.

TO INVESTIGATE DEATH

Body of Man Found Buried

Beneath Tons of Debris in Garbage Scow

BOSTON, July 12.—The body of the man found buried beneath tons of debris in a garbage scow at the wharf of the Coleman Disposal company, near Horder street, East Boston, yesterday, was identified as that of Robinson Wood, aged 22, married, of 65 Walter avenue, Brookline. Death, in the opinion of Medical Examiner Brickley, was due to a crushed chest and as a result of the conditions surrounding the man's death he has asked an investigation into the case by the police.

Wood was employed as a driver by Mrs. Mary Doyle of Jamaica Plain, who has a contract for the disposal of garbage. With him on the wagon was the woman's son, John Doyle, and the pair collected garbage in the downtown district during the day and carried it to the wharf of the Coleman company, at the foot of Oliver street, where it was dumped into scows and then towed to East Boston for loading onto cars.

Wood and Doyle went to the wharf with a load of garbage Monday, about 3 p. m. The garbage was dumped into scow No. 15. This was the same scow which was being unloaded at East Boston yesterday, when the legs of Wood were seen sticking up out of a pile by Samuel Steinbocker of 157 Saratoga street, East Boston, a holding engineer.

Wood did not return home Monday night and search was started for him by his wife of three months, his father and brother. Doyle was questioned, but, according to the father of the victim, his statements helped them little in their search.

Doyle is credited with having said that when the load was dumped Wood was at hand and that shortly afterwards he missed his companion. He did not hear any outcry, and according to the relatives of the victim, Doyle remained around the slip for about 15 minutes and then drove away, engaging another man to assist him in the collecting for the rest of the day.

Last night Wood's father, Artemus Wood, who lives at 50 White place, Brookline, accompanied by another son and a friend, went to the morgue and informed Dr. Brickley of the story, as they knew it. He accompanied them to police headquarters where they again made a report and asked for investigation, as did the medical examiner.

It is understood the matter will be taken up today by the police of the City Hall avenue station, in whose jurisdiction is the wharf of the company. Dr. Brickley has established that the body must have been in the scow at the time it left the wharf, as it was buried beneath tons of garbage and had been for some time. Decomposition had progressed quite rapidly and to a great extent by the time the body was found.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

RIALTO THEATRE

There will be a complete change of program at the Rialto today. "Shattered Ideals" a spectacular production starring Margaret De La Motte and James Morrison is the chief attraction and "The Web of the Law" with Patricia Palmer is the added feature. "Shattered Ideals" is a beautiful love story that takes place in India. There is a thrilling battle scene with over 5000 people participating. Elmer Gray Terry is also in the cast. "The Web of the Law" is a "somewhat different" western picture that contains a big punch, a Mack Sennet comedy and a Pathé News conclude the bill for the latter half of the week.

Hereafter the programs at the Rialto will change thrice weekly, Sunday, Monday and Thursday.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"Burning Sands" the greatest desert romance ever shown on the screen, is the feature attraction of the current bill at the Merrimack Square theatre. It's ten times better than "The Sheikh." The other feature is "Adam and Eve," a tale of laughter, starring Marion Davies. They're both Paramount pictures.

THE STRAND

Anita Stewart's latest picture feature, "Rose O' The Sea" is unusual for two reasons that are quite apart from the remarkable plot and capable direction which the picture presents.

The first is the reappearance of Rudolph Cameron, former leading man on the screen. The second is the unique contrast of a star having her husband as leading man. "Rose O' The Sea" is adapted from the popular book by Countess Radevsky, and tells the story of a wife from the sea who, on the death of her guardian and protector, is forced to make her way on to New York. Her lack of guile and sophistication win her a place of esteem even in the roughest metropolis. Involved in a story of petty jealousies, aristocratic conventions and gambling affairs is a plot of simple heart interest and genuine appeal in which the girl from the country shows her deep faith in the abiding virtues of life, winning a triumph through them.

This picture is the feature attraction for the last three days of the week, starting today.

Katherine MacDonald, one of the handsomest screen stars in "Heros and Humans," affords this favorite ample opportunity to reflect personal charm and ability in pleasing combination.

Albert D. Lasker, at Pilgrims' dinner in London, explains that President Harding thinks it inconsistent for United States to be dry on land and wet on the sea.

POLICE RECOVER LOOT OF MANY BREAKS

OF MANY BREAKS

BOSTON, July 12.—Held as suspicious persons, but alleged to be the men who have perpetrated several breaks in the downtown district within the past couple of months by smashing open display windows of stores, Arthur E. Alden, 22, married, of West Newton street, and Joseph E. Walker, 26, of Clarendon street, were arrested last night in the Back Bay station as they stepped off a Providence train.

In a room in Clarendon street, the police claim they found a sawed brick covered with heavy felt, which was used to break the windows, and loot to the value of thousands of dollars which is alleged to have been secured by the operations of the men.

Among the loot were valuables stolen from the window of the Bigelow, Kennard company yesterday morning, when it was smashed by a missile from the street.

The police claim that Alden and Walker had been to Providence in an attempt to dispose of some of the stolen articles, only to discover when they arrived in window stores pawnshops were closed on Wednesday afternoon. They then returned here and were headed for the Clarendon street house when captured.

Captain Gallivan of the Roxbury Crossing station received a tip following the Bigelow, Kennard break, as to the identity of the men who had committed it. He and Captain Driscoll of the East Dedham street station, Captain Goodwin of the Lagrange street station and Inspector Cronin, Sergeant McDonald, Special Officers Di Sessa, O'Neill, Hartigan, Mullen and McNabb worked on the case during the day and were on hand when the arrests were made.

The loot formed a miscellaneous assortment, included in which was a seal-skin coat and three fur pieces, valued at $1250, stolen from the window of the fur store of Otto Plehler at 36 Boylston street, when it was robbed some weeks ago; five clocks, two compasses, pearl earrings and eight watches, stolen from the Bigelow, Kennard company and valued at $500; a radio outfit, owned by the Pitts Radio corporation of 200 Columbus avenue, and stolen from an automobile in front of the Back Bay station, and several bottles of perfume, stolen from the store of the Samuel Bernardine Perfumery company, at 423 Columbus avenue.

MORE HONORS FOR McADOO

Dr. Rufus B. Von Kleinsmid, president of the University of Southern California (right) conferring the honorary degree of doctor of laws upon William G. McAdoo, Woodrow Wilson's son-in-law, at the college graduation exercises in Los Angeles.

I.W.W.'s on charges of criminal syndicalism and the sentence of from one to 14 years in San Quentin penitentiary passed on each of them.

Predictions were voiced by speakers at last night's meeting that loggers in the northwest would join the strike and declarations made that a similar movement was planned along the Atlantic coast.

The 27 men convicted yesterday were to be started for San Quentin in a special car today, with 17 others previously convicted and given penitentiary sentences.

THREE JOIN NAVY

Chief T. Fredericks, local navy recruiting officer signed up three men yesterday for service in the navy and they were accepted at the Charles Town Navy Yard. They are John Hatch, 42 Main street; Herman Higgins, 42 Dutton street; and John F. Walsh, 39 Lundberg street. All three will be sent to the Naval Training station at Newport, R. I., for a six weeks course of training.

Lowell Will Welcome Owsley

State Commander William H. Doyle and State Adjutant Leo A. Spillane. Shortly after arrival it was planned to have the entire party visit one or two of the manufacturing plants of the city.

The reception will get under way officially at 5 o'clock when Mayor Donovan will present an ornamental key to Col. Owsley on the steps at city hall, where a platform has been erected for the ceremony. The municipal building is attractively decorated with American flags and bunting, while the majority of the downtown stores display the national colors and add a brilliant touch to the scene.

Commander Molloy today emphasized his previous appeals to the veterans of the city to turn out on mass and participate in the reception to the celebrated visitor—the first national commander to visit Lowell since the Legion's organization. In view of the fact that Col. Owsley is a noted lawyer, a former attorney-general of Texas, a distinguished soldier, in the World war, chairman of the Americanization committee of the American Legion and now its chief executive, the committee in charge of his local appearance looks for a celebration of surpassing merit.

Because of Col. Owsley's affiliations with many fraternal organizations, today's reception is not confined solely to the Legion. The Masonic order, the Loyal Lodge of Elks, the Rotary club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Spanish War Veterans, and the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, have all promised their co-operation to make equal the guest's limited stay in this city.

At the conclusion of the presentation ceremonies at city hall, members of Lowell Post, 87, American Legion, will escort Commander Owsley to the Auditorium. The street parade will include a platoon of police, color guard, the Legion and civilians, and as a special feature will have in line the Fifth Infantry band from Camp Devens, fifty pieces strong, which will play popular selections during the period of march and also give a concert program on the Auditorium grounds, beginning at 7 o'clock.

The banquet will take place in the main hall at 8:30 o'clock and will be followed by brief post-prandial exercises. At 1:45 o'clock, the doors of the memorial structure will be thrown open to the public for the general reception, and the colonel, a recognized orator of ability, will address the assemblage. It is expected that seats will be at a premium after 8 o'clock.

Resides Col. Owsley, the public will be given an opportunity to hear Dr. Kate W. Barrett, the national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, and Count Carlo di Robilant, an Italian naval officer, now associated with the Helio Electric Co. of Lowell.

Among the incidental but nevertheless important features in connection with the colonel's visit will be the presentation from the chamber of commerce and the Rotary club, of a huge chest containing products of local mills and factories.

The Chamber-Rotary chest, made by the Otis Allen Box Co., contains the following list of Lowell-made products: Ammunition, United States Cartridge Co.; socks, Brown Hosiery Co.; blankets, Tremont and Suffolk mills; blankets, Massachusetts Mills; velvet, Merrimack Mfg. Co.; flannel, Stirling Mills; pattern for overcoat, Merrimack Woolen Co.; gingham, Hamilton Mfg. Co.; photo of Auditorium, The Marion Studio; comb, the Ideal Comb Co.; silver plate for chest, Prince-Cutter Co.; slippers, J. S. Turner Co.; hose, Shaw Stocking Co.; ladies' silk stockings, Lawrence Mfg.

TRIO OF AUTOMOBILE QUIT ACCIDENTS REPORTED

There were three automobile accidents last evening, but fortunately not one was of a serious nature. The first one occurred in Gorham street near the corner of South Highland street, when Ralph Casier, aged 5 years and residing in Lawrence, was struck by an automobile operated by Clifford Watson of 45 Wilson street, North Billerica. At St. John's hospital, where the lad was taken, it was found that he was suffering from a deep laceration on the forehead.

An automobile operated by Edwin Smolander of 230 Lincoln street, struck Loretta Hardman, aged 8 years, of 118 Lincoln street, in front of her home. The child was injured about the head and was treated at St. John's hospital. The third accident occurred in Concord street when Elsie Dean, a little girl residing in the Belvidere district, was struck by an automobile. The child sustained bruises about the body and a fractured ankle. She was treated at St. John's hospital. The name of the driver of the car could not be learned.

WILL PROSECUTE BOYS WHO DEFILE CEMETERIES

Chairman William H. Rigby presided over the regular meeting of the cemetery commission, held late yesterday afternoon in the mayor's reception room at city hall. A matter of vital importance that was brought to the attention of the commissioners was the desecrating of the Edison cemetery ground by boys, who were seen gambling and playing ball there. It was announced that a close watch will be made on the grounds and all intruders will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Routine business was transacted and it was announced that as soon as six inches of snow has been placed on top of the 17 acre lot of land adjoining the cemetery and owned by the Erastus Barlett estate, the tract will be purchased as an annex to the cemetery. The next meeting of the commission will be held in August.

For the banquet, a special table will be reserved for the "gold star" mothers, wives and next of kin. Tickets still are available at the Auditorium office.

BRITISH SHIPS BAR SALE OF BEER AND WINES IN MANITOBA

Sailors Desert Because They Are Granted Better Conditions on U. S. Ships

LONDON, July 12.—The reason that British mercantile marine sailors desert their country's ships for American is because they are granted much better conditions, according to a reporter for the Daily Herald, the labor organ, who visited the Leviathan yesterday. In long talks with men in all sections of the ship he said, he found that conditions on the Leviathan were much better than those of British ships. "We were treated like men," one of the stewards said. The Leviathan's men get at least 75 per cent. higher wages than their colleagues on British ships.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 12.—The electorate of Manitoba has expressed its unalterable determination to prevent the reestablishment of anything approaching the old style of drinking across the bar by defeating yesterday with a comfortable majority the proposed sale of beer and light wines with meals in licensed hotels. The dry forces have an estimated majority of about 25,000. The proposal was sponsored by the Beer and Wine League, with the backing of the Hotelmen's Association. The vote yesterday was about half of that polled three weeks ago when the plan for the moderation league for government sale of all liquors for beverage purposes won by a majority of 40,000. The total vote then was 185,000.

LOWELL MAN REGAINS HEALTH

Overcomes Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles With Dreco

If you haven't health you are going through this world under a handicap that seriously affects your chances in this race to the top in the business world. Health is your most important asset—guard it. Let DRECO help you like it has thousands of others. Mr. Albert Pickett, well known in and around Lowell, for years endured all the suffering that comes from bad stomach, liver and kidneys. He tried many different medicines, hoping that he would find relief. But none of them helped him.

"My stomach and liver and kidneys were in such a bad condition that I was sickly most of the time. My tire system was rundown, completely wrecked by my troubles. All the medicines I took failed to help me, but their failures only makes DRECO'S success the more remarkable."

"After taking two bottles of this wonderful remedy I felt fine. All my old troubles disappeared. I was a new man, with a stomach that worked fine, a healthy liver and kidneys that did not give me the least bit of bother."

"It is the only medicine I ever saw or heard of that really helps a person bothered with the troubles that kept me in a state of suffering so long. Statements like this from persons right here in our home town should do much to convince people of the true merits of DRECO. This remedy does not contain mercury, potash or harmful poisons. It is a medicine that affects the heart, but is composed of the juices of many different herbs, roots and leaves, which act on the vital organs."

Call today at Green's Drug Store and ask to talk with the expert from the Dreco Laboratories. He will gladly tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy. Also he will honestly tell you whether or not he thinks Dreco will benefit you. Also Dreco is sold in Nashua by Nashua Drug Co., 175 Main St. Adv.

SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS, WITH MANY NOVEL FEATURES HERE TOMORROW

There are all sorts of interesting things for the girl performers with Sells-Floto circus to do when they are not working in their acts, and Bee Starr finds Prince, the star clown in "A Night in Persia," the gorgeous spectacle of the show, a wonderful pastime—affectionate, playful and with a gift for the snappy retort, expressed with quick shoves of his clownish snout.

When Sells-Floto comes to Lowell tomorrow you'll see the two stars, Bee and Prince. Bee Starr is one of the five girl aerial stars in the two Flying Ward troupes, and she is known on the lot as "The Shooting Star," while Prince stars in the great spectacle and in the menagerie, especially when someone comes along with crack-crack. Prince is an old trouper, and he's been eating crackerjack for years, but never has he had his fill.

Riding acts may come and riding acts may go, but it is not likely that anything so unusual as the equestrian offering of Joe Hodgini, Belgian comic of the sawdust ring, will be seen in America for years to come. Hodgini and his family have been imported by the Sells-Floto circus, and they have bags of tricks that are entirely new to the big top fans in this country.

There are three girls in the troupe—Irone, Etta and Rose Hodgini, and they seem fairly to bound from the ground to the backs of their racing steeds and from horse to horse, while somersaulting atop their mounts is to them merely warming up exercise. They've been at it since they were babies—Irone, almost, and that's the reason, of course. The girls are wild about America, and in each city played by the circus, they insist on "making" trade that they may see more of the town. Between shows, one is likely to see them riding street cars to the ends of the lines, for their interest in everything American seems limitless. They know more about the United States cities they have been in than most of the circus people who have been trouping through them for years.

and, on the other that the communist government may be justified, from its standpoint, in maintaining semi-martial law in some districts.

American and other foreigners who spend a few weeks or months in Russia and find everything moving forward apparently smoothly under the communist dictatorship, sometimes go home and report that everybody is contented with the present state of affairs. This seems true in Moscow and other central Russian cities, but a careful day-by-day perusal of the official newspapers shows that every now and then a plot pops up, and that an undercurrent of opposition, weak but persistent, is running beneath the surface in many provinces.

One reads laconic announcements that two persons have been shot here, another three, some more in another place, for counter-revolutionary activity or participation in "handiwork." This in the Ukraine and Cossack regions is just another name for roving armed opposition to the red army.

Once in a great while some announcements of more important plots, such as the one recently discovered in Georgia, this resulted in the execution of 15 persons, and had as its aim the separation of the entire Caucasus from Soviet Russia.

These counter-revolutionary activities are nothing like as widespread as a year or two ago, but they are sufficiently important to keep the secret police and the red army constantly on the watch.

BRAZIL'S FUEL IMPORTS INCREASE
RIO DE JANEIRO, July 12.—Although the greater part of Brazil lies within the tropics, one of the greatest problems involved in the country's economic expansion is that of fuel supply. In 1922, according to official figures published here, Brazil spent approximately $27,000,000 on imported fuels.

The principal difficulty in the way of developing known sources of fuel in Brazil at present is the lack of transportation facilities. Coal mined in Brazil now costs more on this market than that imported from England or the United States.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months.

SEVEN INDICTED IN PROBE OF BROKERS

NEW YORK, July 12.—Acting Federal Attorney Clark yesterday announced that sealed indictments were returned 10 days ago by the federal grand jury charging use of the mails to defraud against Edward M. Fallon, William F. McGee, Charles H. Clarkson, John C. Feeley and James M. Minnaugh, stock brokers, William J. Fallon, a lawyer, and Charles W. Rendigs, a juror, also were indicted.

CHILDREN CRY FOR "CASTORIA"

Especially Prepared for Infants and Children of All Ages

Mother! Fletcher's Castoria has been in use for over 30 years to relieve babies and children of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and, by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of food, giving natural sleep without opiates.

charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice and with giving and taking a bribe.

The indictments, it was announced, were returned after an investigation of six weeks into the affairs of Chas. H. Clarkson & Co., brokers. It was declared E. M. Fallon, confessed buck-eer, and his partner, William F. McGee, had been instrumental in forming the Clarkson firm.

It was pointed out that Fallonsoma weeks ago promised to make a full statement in regard to the affairs of his own firm, provided he was granted full immunity. This was refused by United States District Attorney Hayward because the broker's connection with Clarkson & Co. was already under investigation.

James Minnaugh, it is alleged, was a member of the firm of Hedberg & Co., another brokerage house, and that through him Hedberg & Co. assisted Clarkson & Co. in trading against customers' orders.

The bribe alleged to have been given by Fallon to Rendigs, the juror, amounted to $1000 and, it is charged, was passed for a verdict of "not guilty" Nov. 6, 1922. It is further charged that in offering and giving the bribe Fallon was acting in behalf of Alfred Dew Blum, one of the defendants. Blum is not named in the new indictments.

The indictments naming Fallon and Rendigs were said to be in connection with a trial of Durrell-Gregory & Co. and others, charged with using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of stock of the American Tire Corporation.

Mr. Clark said he was sure Rendigs and Fallon would surrender tomorrow. Fallon and McGee already are in Ludlow street jail for contempt of court. As to the others named Mr. Clark said he had no doubt they would appear voluntarily.

The 11 counts of the indictments naming the five brokers were found on

BANKERS WILL STUDY MANY BIG PROBLEMS

CLEVELAND, July 12.—Whether or not branch banking in the United States should be encouraged, will be the subject of debate between the chapters from Boston and Philadelphia of the American Institute of Banking at the twenty-first annual convention of that organization here July 16 to 20.

Agriculture and its relation to all other interests, will be the subject of an address by E. T. Meredith of Des Moines, at the general sessions of the institute.

One of the features of the convention will be the reunion of the pioneer members who were responsible for its organization in 1903 in this city and who were active in its development through the first five years of its existence. There will be conferences on various banking subjects. There are ten general subjects and there will be 25 of these conferences in addition to the two general business meetings.

Alexander Dunbar, of Pittsburgh; I. F. Freiburger, Cleveland; Alfred T. Hunt, Scranton, Pa.; O. Howard Wolf, Philadelphia, and C. B. Hazelwood, Chicago, will make addresses at the various conferences, while Carter E. Talman, president of the American Institute of Banking, and John H. Fowler, of the American Bankers' association, will address one of the general sessions.

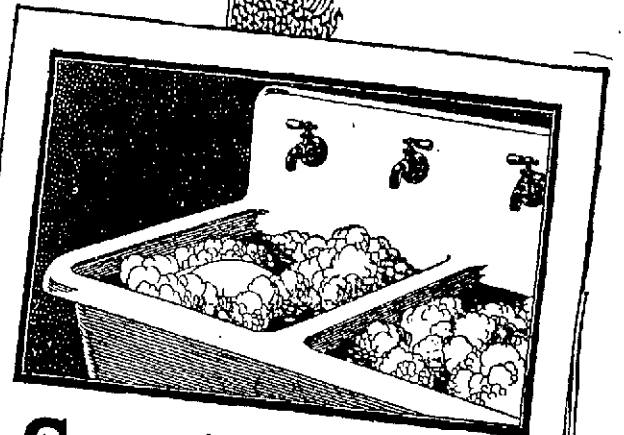

Dissolve

Just pour Rinso into a saucepan and add boiling water. It dissolves instantly and makes a good thick soapy solution. Use enough Rinso to get rich lasting suds.

Use enough

Then fill the tub half full with lukewarm water. Pour the thick soap solution into your tub and whip up the suds at once. Put your hand through the suds into the water—if you have used enough solution the water will feel soapy all through. Even after you have put your clothes into the tub, the suds should stand up. If they do not, add more Rinso solution.

Soak

Soak your clothes in these lasting suds for an hour or two—overnight, if you wish. (Colored clothes not longer than half an hour.)

This soaking takes the place of rubbing. It loosens the dirt so that it rinses right out—you'll find that only neck bands and cuff edges and seats and knees of children's playclothes need any rubbing. For this light rubbing just sprinkle a little dry Rinso right on the fabric.

"Don't rub your youth away"

With this new kind of soap soaking takes the place of rubbing—

Simply soaking in Rinso suds loosens dirt.

The old wearing method of rubbing soap on the clothes and then rubbing the clothes is done away with.

Rinso has brought about this great change. So rich in pure soap it has more cleansing power than bar soap. Yet, so gentle and mild it lets soaking safely do the work of rubbing.

Only the dirtiest places—where dirt was actually rubbed in—will need just a light rubbing.

Where this light rubbing is necessary just sprinkle on a little dry Rinso.

Whichever way you do your wash, use Rinso instead of bar soap. It is wonderful for just soaking in regular stationary tubs. It is as fine for boiling. And it is perfect for washing machines. You need no soap powder or other soap with it. Rinso does the whole job.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux—the largest soap makers in the world. It does the family wash as wonderfully as Lux does fine things. Now you no longer have hard rubbing even for the big family wash any more than you do for fine fabrics. Both you and your clothes are spared that steady wear and tear.

All grocery and department stores have Rinso in two sizes, regular and big new package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Rinso

does the whole job—with it you need no other soap

70,000 EXPECTED TO WITNESS WILLARD-FIRPO BATTLE TONIGHT

MEN FROM ALL PARTS OF WESTERN HEMISPHERE TO ATTEND BOUT

Modern Gladiators, One From the Prairies of Kansas and the Other From Far Stretches of Argentine Will Stake Their Pugilistic Futures in 12-Round Match in Picturesque Setting of Arena at Boyle's Thirty Acres at 10 O'Clock Tonight

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 12.—(By the Associated Press.) Two modern gladiators, one from the prairies of Kansas and the other from the far stretches of the Argentine, will stake their pugilistic futures tonight in a 12-round match in the picturesque setting of the arena at Boyle's Thirty Acres.

For Jesse Willard, the man mountain who held the championship of the world from 1915 to 1919, it will be the acid test in the come-back he which he hopes to obtain a return match with his conqueror, Jack Dempsey. For Firpo it will be the critical point in one of the most sensational careers of ring history, a stupendous success if he is victorious, a chance at Dempsey's throne.

70,000 Expected at Ringside

A colorful crowd of probably more than 70,000 fans, including nobles of society, business, public life and pugilism, men from all parts of the western hemisphere, are expected to witness the combat.

Advance ticket sales had passed the 30,000 mark last night and indications were that this figure would be more than doubled by the time the fight program begins at 8:15 p. m. daylight time. Gates to the arena were to be opened at 5 o'clock this afternoon, simultaneously with the opening of the sale of tickets for unreserved access, where about 30,000 can be accommodated.

Both Fit For Battle

Both fighters today were declared to be fit for their greatest efforts of their unusual careers and experts who weighed pro and con the rugged youth, punch and aggressiveness of Firpo against the generalship, power and gameness of Willard, regarded the outcome as a tossup. A Willard up-purcut or a Firpo right swing, both of which have landed before, with devastating effect, may decide the issue.

DIAMOND SEEKS BOUT IN NEW YORK—WANTS TO MEET JOHNNY BUFF

Lowell Flyweight Going Good Word Has Reached This Office From New York to the effect that Al Diamond, Lowell's sensational flyweight who has been mingling with the not-sothers of his division in the metropolis for the past two years, is anxious to display his improved wares before a Lowell audience. Although a younger, Diamond has had considerable experience in battle circles and created quite a sensation in the Big Town with an uninterrupted series of successes against opponents of reputed strength. It is several years since Al pushed the leathers in this city. For two seasons past he has been in the same stable with Benny Leonard and Frankie Jerome under the expert tutelage of Billy Gibson. Under Gibson's management, Diamond has boxed and scored victories over Battling Murray, Artie Bird, Billy Bell, Tiny Trinkle, Victor Hiteche, Johnny Rose, Kewpie Williams, Joe Dundee, Marty Silvers and others of equal prominence. His one desire at present is to meet Johnny

AL DIAMOND

Buff, former holder of the fly and bantam weight championships of the world. Diamond will be at the ringside at the Queensboro A. C. open-air show in Long Island next week to challenge the winner of the scheduled Johnny Buff-Jenny Catena bout, which goes fifteen rounds to a decision. Catena, by the way, has turned down three previous invitations to mix matters with Diamond, who holds in the vicinity of 12-pounds ringlets.

Since Diamond started in the boxing game, he has engaged in more than 70 contests and has won the experience the sensation of a knockout. Outpointed a couple of times, he was never defeated. He lost to Steve Gustin in boxing some time ago, but showed considerable stamina by staying through eight rounds with a jaw which was fractured in the second round of the milling. At Yorkers, N. Y., some time later, a fractured jaw again cost him a decision, this time over Buddy Young.

It has been suggested by a group of Diamond's local friends that Geril P. "Duke" Dodge, Lowell promoter, arrange an open air card at Spaulding park with Diamond and Johnny Buff as the feature attraction. It will be recalled that Al and Billy Murphy put up two of the best exhibitions two years ago, that Lowell fans have ever witnessed, and Diamond has shown considerable improvement in the meantime. Diamond is ready. All that is needed now is a promoter.

NATIONAL CLAY COURT TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 12.—(By the Associated Press.) Play in the quarter finals of the men's singles in the national clay court tennis championship was resumed today. Second round play in the ladies' singles and second round play in the boys' and junior tournament also were started. Only eight players remain in the men's singles. In the first match of the day, Manuel Alonso, Spanish Davis cup team member, will meet Howard Kline of San Francisco.

Ralph Furber and Fritz Bastian of Indianapolis, last year's winners in the doubles matches, are to meet Jack Harris and John Webb of Chicago in the second round of play in the doubles contest.

CONTRACT FOR SALE OF RED SOX SIGNED

BOSTON, July 12.—The sale of the Boston American League club has been completed. After an all day discussion of details by Pres. H. H. Frazee, Palmer M. Winslow and Robert Quinn, representing the Ohio syndicate, with Thomas J. Barry and Ripley L. Dana, legal advisors of the contracting parties, the deal was signed.

Neither side would state the amount of money involved in the transaction, although Pres. Frazee said, last night, that he received the price he has been asking all along, which has been $1,200,000. Possibly this was shaded somewhat when the compromise stage of the proceedings was reached, but those who should have an inkling of the facts intimate that about $1,200,000 is the price.

"Bobbie" Quinn, who is to be the new president of the club, and who, like Mr. Frazee, knows the exact amount, declined to give any information, saying he did not think the public would be interested in the matter, and that both sides had agreed not to disclose the amount.

It is expected that the new owners will assume control of the club August 1.

Quinn Silent as to Plans

Mr. Quinn was not prepared, last night, to discuss the plans of the new owners after they assume control. He declared that he will take some time in looking over the situation before any changes are made. He is going back to St. Louis to close up some personal affairs, and expects to return to Boston the latter part of this month, and make Boston his permanent home.

Mr. Quinn said that he has always had a hankering for an interest in the Red Sox, and was at one time considering a proposition to come here as manager when John L. Taylor owned the club.

Umpire Quigley Recovers From Injury

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—Improvement in the condition of Umpire Ernest Quigley, injured yesterday while officiating behind the plate in the first game of a double-header between Philadelphia and Cincinnati, was reported today. He was knocked out by a foul ball from the bat of James Caveney, Cincinnati shortstop. The blow raised a big lump on the left side of the veteran umpire's head. Physicians said Quigley would be back in the game within two weeks.

paired to be greatly pleased over the completion of the deal. Dr. Drury, another member of the syndicate, is in Canada on a fishing trip.

Pres. Ben Johnson and Harry Frazee broke bread together at the Copple-Plaza, and both were as affable as long lost brothers. President Johnson was the guest of Mr. Frazee, a western Sport Herrmann of Chicago, a large stockholder in the Boston club; John C. Hoyer of the Federal National bank of Boston, and others.

The men from out of town started for New York on the midnight train.

Fans Well Pleased

BOSTON, July 12.—Boston fans who have become a bit weary of seeing the Red Sox last in the American league standing expressed great interest today in the news that a Columbus, Ohio, syndicate would take over the club on August 1. Robert J. Quinn, former business manager of the St. Louis Americans who is to be the new president of the Boston club, cautioned them not to expect too much immediately.

"My idea of baseball," he said, "is to give the home fans the prettiest treatment possible. My idea of a real ball club is one that is carefully constructed around some honest big league material, and the Red Sox of today must have some of that talent. You cannot make a good ball club in 15 minutes. If anyone thinks I have brought three or four star players to Boston in my vest pocket, he is mistaken."

STOREHOUSE BURNED

BALDWINVILLE, July 12.—The storehouse of the A. L. Adams Paper Co. here was burned early today. The frame building contained a large stock of finished and unfinished paper, and a considerable amount of sulphur. In the absence of Mr. Adams no one connected with the company was prepared to estimate the loss.

DUNDEE FAVORITE IN BOUT WITH CRIQUI

NEW YORK, July 12.—With Eugene Criqui and Johnny Dundee down to hard work for their championship battle for the featherweight title at the Polo Grounds on the night of July 26, speculation as to the outcome of the match is stirring. The first bet recorded has made Dundee the favorite. The wager was recorded at odds of seven to five, much to the surprise of those who saw the Frenchman in his sensational victory over Johnny Kilbane. Dundee, it is explained, is made the favorite because for the first time in several years he will meet an opponent at his natural weight. For years Dundee has been conceding weight. He has met and held his own with some of the best lightweights, including Champion Leonard. When Dundee met Danny Frush a year ago he weighed 124½ pounds.

Dundee's Italian-American friends are getting together a pool to back their favorite and declare that they will accept all bets offered on the Frenchman. It is believed, however, that before the men enter the ring Criqui will be at least an even money choice.

Tom O'Rourke, matchmaker of the Polo Grounds Athletic club, yesterday announced the full card of preliminaries to the Criqui-Dundee match. The semi-final will be eight rounds between Johnny Curtin of Jersey against Dan Edwards of California. Leon Fouet, a protégé of Criqui, will meet Pat Mills of Ireland in a second eight-round bout. Tony Vaccarella of New York will clash with Jackie McCoy in a six-round contest and the opening bout of four rounds will be between Charles Glasse of Chicago and Davy Jones of New York.

though in his sixteenth year in the big show.

Condition has made over three players. All of which merely strengthens the belief that a college trainer would help a major league club by watching closely the condition of his charges.

Says the Veteran Motorist:

"I WANT to say right here that the attitude most motorists have toward the traffic officer is absolutely wrong. The majority of drivers imagine that he is always out to get them. Nothing of the sort.

"His job is to keep the highways safe for everybody. He's out to keep you from endangering the lives and limbs of others. And he's out just as hard and just as long to keep the other fellow from banging you up. He may call you down one minute and then save you a nasty smash-up at the hands of some novice or dare-devil just behind you.

"One of the best scouts I ever met is a traffic officer and a few incidents that he and others have told me make me feel like taking my hat off to the whole bunch of them. If you want my honest opinion of it, I think it's a wonder that they manage to keep so courteous, considerate and fair—considering what they have to put up with day in and day out."

CINCINNATI WINS TWIN BILL AND MOVES INTO SECOND PLACE

RED MENACE APPEARS TO CHALLENGE NEW YORK GIANTS

Double Victory for Pat Moran's Cincinnati Team Brings Shakeup in Standing—Pirates Drop to Third Place—Four Teams Fighting for Third Place in American League

NEW YORK, July 12.—A Red menace has appeared to challenge the right of the world's champions to the league leadership, for Pat Moran and his boys from Cincinnati today are occupying second place as the result of a double victory over Philadelphia yesterday by scores of 6 to 2 and 9 to 6. But the task of the Reds is a little harder than was that of Pittsburgh as the teams alone Monday. The Reds lead in games then was three and one-half; today it is five. They jumped over Pittsburgh, 6 to 1, yesterday.

When Grover Alexander is in good form there can be but one result to ball game—victory for his team. Yesterday was one of those days and a Chicago Cubs reversed the result. Tuesday by shutting out Brooklyn, 6 to 0. St. Louis again defeated Boston, 10 to 4, making it three in a row.

The feature of the American league does not concern the league standings, who with a lead of games are too far out in front to interest. The Hugmen won another close game from the White Sox yesterday and Cincinnati strengthened its hold on second place, getting another verdict over the Athletics. The Indians now have a lead of three games over Connie Mack's aggregation. The real race in the American league now is for third place, with four teams bunched for the position. The Detroit Tigers who have been losing a lot of games recently have shown some improvement and yesterday by taking both ends of a double header from the Boston Red Sox, went into a tie with the Athletics for third place. The White Sox are only one and one-half games behind and the St. Louis Browns, despite the absence of George Sizer since the beginning of the season, are trailing the White Sox by only six points.

The western teams again outplayed the eastern wings in both leagues yesterday, the Giants and Yankees being the only clubs of the east to win. Yesterday there were six home runs but they were all in the American league, and made by two clubs, three by Detroit and three by St. Louis. No National league player was able to hit for the circuit yesterday. The total home runs up to yesterday were National league, 301; American 228.

OMMEL'S WORK HURTS ATHLETICS

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—"If Ed Ommel had shown the form this year at he did last season the Athletics would just about be out front," opined Connie Mack. "Romel was the one pitcher on my staff at I looked on at the start, yet he has been the least consistent performer. Naylor, who recently suffered setback because of a wrenched knee, supplanted Rommel as my ace for a time being at least. A return to winning form by Rommel is necessary if we are to stay up in the race."

DON'T MEASURE STAR BY STRIKEOUTS

By BILLY EVANS
A right arm that is in its tenth year of major league service that has never been afflicted with a kink and has only once been below the 500 mark hangs from Edward Joseph Pfeffer's 200-pound frame.

"Just a little common sense in the spring and in the summer," is the prescription presented by the giant right-hander, now a member of the St. Louis Cardinals' staff.

Pfeffer engages in physical training in the spring at least two weeks before he attempts to twist a curve. Strikeouts mean nothing to him. He works on the theory that he has eight other players to help him.

In other words Pfeffer advises: "Don't wear yourself out on each batter. Mix 'em up and don't call upon all of your power and strength until they have you where you have to keep them from scoring one run."

Works On His Batter
"I keep them away from the batter's favorite spot with slow curves and only an occasional fast one. The arm cannot stand the strain of one fast ball after another. At least that's my theory and without doubt I have just passed my 34th birthday, my arm feels as good as it did the first day I arrived in the big league."

Pfeffer, by pitching winning ball for nine straight years and starting the present season with six victories and one defeat, is considered one of the stars of the National league. It must not be forgotten that he has passed over the line of youth several years ago, yet he has not lost his effectiveness.

Hickey Made Good Trade

When the exchange was completed it looked as if the Superbas had the edge as Schupp was pitching winning ball and Janvria was a valuable utility player. Hickey, however, expressed himself as being perfectly satisfied with his bargain.

Pfeffer, in 1922, won 19 games and lost 12, ranking seventh in the league. Schupp and Janvria have passed down to the minors.

The only season Pfeffer failed to win more games than he lost was in 1917, when his record showed 11 victories and 15 defeats. His pitching total includes 141 victories and 94 defeats up to the present.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Merrimacks and St. Peter's Cadets will cross bats at Shedd park today afternoon at three o'clock. The following Merrimacks are requested to report at 1.15: Connors, Quinn, Cashman, Willard, Donnelly, McCluskey, McDermott, Neenan, F. Donoghue, McVey and Ring Conlon.

The Mass. mills baseball nine will meet the strong Southparks, formerly St. Peter's Cadets, on the South common Thursday evening. The Mass. battery will be Connors or Mulino and Riley, catch. Pop Williams, Allen, Souza and other well known Twilight players will be seen in the Massachusetts uniforms.

The Southparks will present their usual strong lineup with Reagen, Crowe, Gath, McAdams as stars.

The Southparks defeated the Rovers on the South common last night by the score of 13 to 5. Heagan pitched the first three innings for the Southparks and he held the Rovers scoreless. Not to twisted the remainder of the game and he gave a good exhibition. George Carr caught a fine game for the winners. Tonight on the common the Southparks will meet the Massachusetts Mills team, as the Willie Stars, who were originally scheduled to meet them, have withdrawn from the game.

BOBBY JONES SEEKS NATIONAL GOLF TITLE

INWOOD, N. Y., July 12. (By the Associated Press).—Robert T. (Bobby) Jones of Atlanta, whose golf has been reaching closer and closer to the top with the passing tournaments, launches another rally for national title honors today in the fourth and final qualifying field for the 1923 open championship.

Last year at Skeikie, he shared second honors with the veteran professional John Hogg, with a card of 289, one stroke behind Gene Sarazen's winning 288. Bob Cruikshank of the Shickamaxon club at Westfield, N. J., was drawn as Jones' partner for the round today.

James Gullford, of Boston, former amateur champion, paired with William Brand, of upper Montclair, N. J., and Jim Barnes, the lengthy Pelham, N. Y., pro, who won the open title at Columbia in 1921. John J. Farrell, the youth pro of the Quaker Ridge club at Mamaroneck, N. Y., Richard Walsh, national public links champion, and Chas. Hoffner of Philadelphia, are other stars.

Puzzling Plays By Billy Evans

The Play

What are the rights of the coach? A play came up in a minor league game last summer that brought up the point as to whether the intent of a coach must be given consideration.

With two out and runners on second and third, with the ball in the pitcher's possession while standing on the rubber, the coach at third dashed for the plate yelling "Home!" "Foul!" His intent was to draw a throw from the pitcher.

The pitcher stepped off the rubber, intending, perhaps, to throw the ball home, but seeing it was the coach running, made no play.

The umpire declared the runner on third out because of the act of the coach. He held that if the coach attempted to draw a throw because of his actions the runner on third is out whether or not a play is made.

The Interpretation

The umpire was wrong in ruling the runner on third was out because of the coach's dashing toward the plate, because no play was made.

The rule states he must draw the throw to the home base for the runner to be declared out.

If such a play came up in a game in which I was the umpire I would suspend the play and send the coach to the bench or the clubhouse.

Kinks o' the Links by PRO

In medal play, Smith hands in his card, on which a mistake has occurred. He plays the round of 18 holes in 97. His handicap is 16. He turned in his net total as 80 instead of 81. The mistake is later discovered by the official in charge. Is a player penalized for turning in an incorrect score for the round?

There is no penalty for such an offense as above stated. The player is to merely turn in his score for each hole. Often players, in order to find out their actual net score, complete the card by adding the scores for each hole and subtracting the handicap. A mistake in addition or subtraction is always possible. The player is not supposed to do this, it is the duty of the official in charge. When such a mistake has been made, the official checking up the cards simply places the correct total on the scorecard.

What is supposed to be the regulation size and weight of a golf ball?

The ball must not weigh over 1.62 ounces avoirdupois and the size not less than 1.62 inches in diameter.

College Spirit Wins for Mackmen

ANDY SMITH

BY BILLY EVANS
Andy Smith, famous football coach of the University of California, is as strong for baseball as the gridiron sport.

Recently while umpiring at Philadelphia I bumped into Smith before the game. Andy was merely attending in the role of spectator. Said he was curious to see how the Athletics were winning so many ball games.

A lot of other Philadelphians are just like Smith. They wonder how Mack's club is doing it and then journey out to Shibe Park to get a glimpse for themselves. Curious folks have made big business for Connie Mack this year.

The Athletics won the day the famous football mentor was looking them over. Cleveland was beaten in a great game, in which Mack's team came from behind to win. Smith is an analyst, a close student of sport. That is one reason why he has been so successful as a football coach. To him there is a reason for everything.

Have Fighting Spirit

After the game I looked up Andy

to get his version of why Connie Mack's young club, almost overlooked at the start of the season, is now regarded as the sensation of the American league race.

"The Athletics win because they hustle from the start to the finish. It's a club with the old fighting spirit that doesn't know the meaning of defeat," said Smith.

"Mack's club is the nearest thing to a college team I ever saw. You wouldn't think his club was paid real money to play, rather you would think the players were in it for the fun of playing and the glory of winning."

"Did you notice the good feeling that existed, how each player was constantly encouraging the other. Took me back to the old college stuff to see the athletes put the fellow on the back who made a good play and say a lot of nice things to him."

"That fellow they call 'Sparkplug' Matthews deserves the title. He's not only a player but a cheer leader as well, for the Athletics. He just bubbles over with enthusiasm that is contagious. It has spread to the rest of the club. That's one big reason why Mack's club has suddenly jumped from a near tailender to a pennant contender."

"The Athletics play as if they were

ed a ball game consisted of 18 innings instead of nine. Ordinarily most professionals would be perfectly satisfied if the game only required seven innings.

Athletics Have Color

"I am no Connie Mack when it comes to judging ball players, but after looking his team over I wouldn't call it a great club. It's a good club that has no outstanding star like Cobb or Sizer, yet it has the spirit, the desire to win and that makes it a dangerous ball club."

"The Athletics of 1923 have far more color than Mack's old time world champs. There is a dash to the play that Mack's former great teams lacked. Better yet it is a young club that should continue to improve."

"It wouldn't surprise me in the least if Mack gave Philadelphia another world's championship in 1924, positively not later than 1925."

There you have the opinion of one of the greatest football coaches of modern times, as to why the Athletics are startling the baseball world. A man who can turn out great football teams like Smith does, is worth while listening to even when he discusses baseball.

BABY IS BORN ON PLEASURE BOAT

DETROIT, July 11.—A stark fluttered along the Detroit river yesterday, as the excursion steamer Columbia, running between Detroit and Boh-lo, a resort, was pushing slowly back to Detroit.

Mrs. Isabella Stuchka, Detroit, a passenger on the Columbia, gave birth to an eight-pound daughter and there were many excited conjectures as to whether America or Canada was to have another little citizen. It was finally decided that the baby had entered United States waters and a great cheer went up from the American passengers.

The baby was named Columbia after the boat, and after the country of her birth.

J., July 11.—One unidentified boy was killed and seven persons injured when a westbound Hudson & Manhattan tube train collided with an eastbound empty train at a switch near the Harrison occurred today. When the crash occurred, the first car left the rails but did not turn over. All traffic on the tube lines was halted for a half hour.

REPORT MEXICO TO BE RECOGNIZED

NEW YORK, July 11.—Wall street was swept today by rumors that differences between the American and Mexican members of the arbitration committee had been settled, and that recognition of the Obregon government might be announced by the State Department at any moment.

The rumor, apparently, was based on the fact that the international committee of bankers on Mexico, headed by Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., had yesterday issued its formal call for the deposit of Mexican bonds comprehended in the agreement reached earlier this year. This step would not have been taken, believers of the rumor argued, if the way to recognition of the sister republic were not assured.

At the offices of the Mexican Financial Agency it was said that nothing supporting such rumors had been received there, but it was "hoped they were true."

WOMAN COLLAPSES AT DEATH VERDICT

CHICAGO, July 11.—Mrs. Sabella Nicodemi became a frightened, fighting creature a moment after being informed here yesterday that the jury which had convicted her of the murder of her husband had sentenced her to die for the crime.

It was not until shortly before noon that an interpreter was obtained and Mrs. Nicodemi was informed of the sentence. As the terms of punishment became intelligible to her, she collapsed, but recovered quickly and fought her jailers in a wild attempt to escape from the screened lawyer's cage in the woman's quarters of the jail, where she had been taken to hear the sentence interpreted.

She was overpowered by the matrons and lead screaming to a cell.

RECEIVER TAKES BRISTOL MFG. CO.

BRISTOL, Conn., July 11.—The Bristol Manufacturing Co., makers of knit underwear and capitalized at $500,000, voluntarily went into the hands of the American Trust Co. of Bristol, as temporary receiver yesterday. It will be decided later whether to liquidate or to reorganize to meet changed conditions in the demand for goods. The company's assets appear to be in excess of liabilities.

The mills are in Bristol and Plainville and 300 persons, mostly women and girls, are employed.

CAP PISTOL BURNS FATAL TO BOY

WATERBURY, Vt., July 11.—The second death this week, as a result of burns received in celebrating the Fourth of July, came in the morning when Floyd Ashline, aged 13, died in a hospital in Burlington. In using a revolver and caps his hand was slightly burned with no serious danger. Monday night he was developed and he was rushed to a hospital in Burlington. He leaves his parents and one sister.

HITCHCOCK IS McADOO BOOSTER

NEW YORK, July 11.—Gilbert M. Hitchcock former senator from Nebraska, who led the democratic fight for ratification of the senate of the treaty of Versailles, sailed for Europe with Mrs. Hitchcock and their daughter on the Belgenland today, declaring it was "too late" for America to enter the League of Nations.

BRITISH CABINET APPROVES PLAN

LONDON, July 11.—By the Associated Press. Final approval was given today by the British cabinet in the terms of the reparations statement which will be made tomorrow by Premier Stanley Baldwin and Foreign Secretary Carson, coincidentally in the house of commons and the lords. It is anticipated that the joint statement will be one of studied moderation intended to maintain friendly relations with France.

NEW YORK BROKER GIVEN TWO YEARS

AMSTERDAM, July 11.—Augustus F. Toothill, member of the defunct New York city brokerage firm of Dillon & Co., who was recently convicted of a grand larceny charge in Montgomery county court, was sentenced to from two to five years in Clinton prison. The case was based on the complaint of a local music dealer who alleged he had deposited $5000 with Dillon & Co., for stock which was never delivered.

ALI GAVE HIM DAGGER

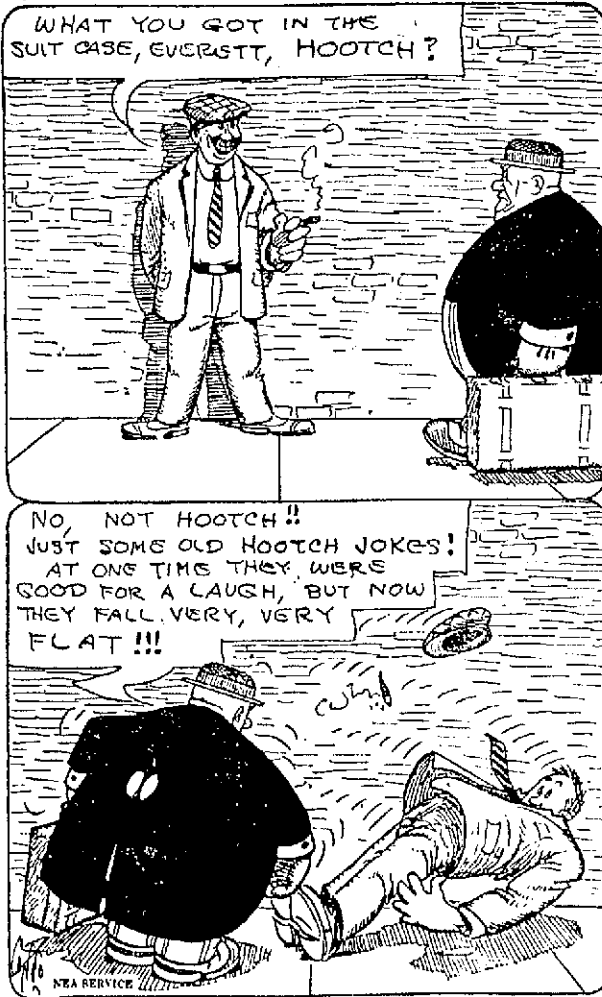

Captain Edward A. Salisbury, who sailed from Los Angeles three years ago with a crew of college men for a cruise in the Indian Ocean and South Seas, is back in New York enjoying the pleasures of home. He is looking at one of the presents given him, a belt and dagger, presented by Crown Prince Ali of Arabia. The belt is of gold with platinum inlay, made in Mecca.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 22

"Gee, but I feel strong," said Jack, as he downed the last drop of fluid out of Trixie's tin cup. "Well, now, I'll tell you what that liquid was," replied his little friend. Then she explained that the kettle had contained strength broth which made her father strong.

"You see," said Trixie, "dad keeps that kettle of strength broth boiling all the time. And every time he takes a drink it makes him more powerful than all the other giants. And at that moment Jack looked up and saw Trixie's father, the had giant, come through the woods.

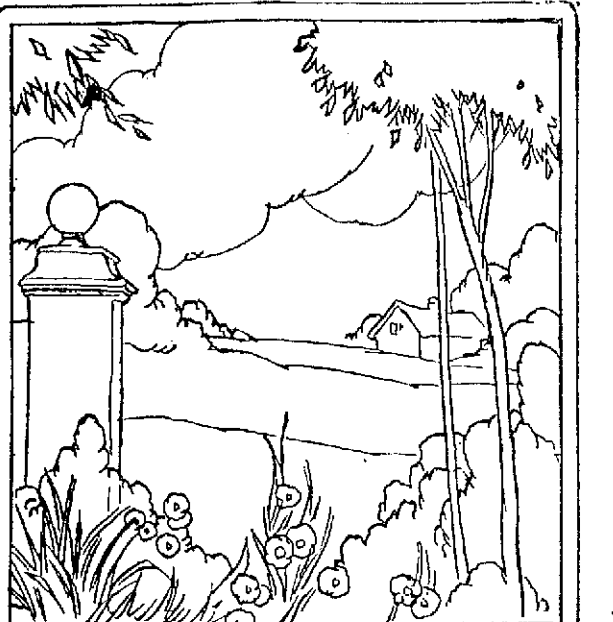

"Don't be afraid of him," said Trixie, as Jack turned, as if to run. "He can't hurt you now. He has come after a drink to give him power again and his fluid is all gone." And then the had giant shouted, "Wait until I take a drink, sonny; then I'll take care of you." (Continued.)

OF THE TWINS

No. 1—RAINBOW LAND

"RIGHT YOU ARE!" SAID A VOICE RIGHT AT THEIR ELBOW

One day after a storm the sun came out. And there appeared a beautiful rainbow. It stretched from Over Yonder to Over There and was so plain it might have been a Chinese bridge or a jumping rope suddenly turned stiff in the air.

"Isn't it wonderful?" cried Nancy.

"Yes," nodded Nick. "And I'll bet you it's more wonderful even than it looks."

"Right you are!" said a voice right at their elbows, and looking they beheld a funny little goblin of a fellow dressed in a hundred colors. Or maybe it was a hundred and one colors. But anyway there were a good many. And he was bow-legged, and bowed-armed and bowed all over, you might say, his tummy being as round as a soup bowl.

"The rainbow is the big door that opens into Rainbow Land and Rainbow Land is the best place on—on—on—" can't say on earth so I'll say on sky. Rainbow Land is the best place on sky," he said.

The Twins laughed, but they were still very curious.

"Do you live in Rainbow Land?" asked Nancy.

"Yes, I do," said the funny little fellow. "I'm a Rainbow Lander. My name's Mister Sky Bow and I like everybody and everybody likes me. I hope we shall be friends."

"Sure we shall," declared Nick.

"You're a fairy, aren't you? Nancy and I have lots of fairy friends, but we can use some more. I always think friends are like candy, the more you have the more you want."

"Aren't you nice?" said Mister Sky Bow with a broad smile. "Would you like to go back to Rainbow Land with me and make still more friends?"

"Oh, we'd love to!" cried Nancy.

TO LEAVE PALESTINE

Flood of Jewish Immigrants

Wish to Emigrate to United States

LONDON, July 12.—A Jerusalem dispatch to the Daily Mail says that the United States consulate in that city is daily flooded with the applications of Jewish immigrants in Palestine who are unable to obtain work and who wish to emigrate to the United States. It is believed that almost half of the new comers in Palestine seek to leave the country within a few months of their arrival.

RESUME TRIAL IN DELOREME'S HOME

MONTREAL, July 12.—Prisoner, court and jury will be moved today to the St. Hubert street home of Adolphe Delorme, former priest, and there, in the presence of his sisters and half sisters, will resume trial for the murder of his half-brother, Raoul Delorme.

Proceeding first to the Delorme residence, the court will then go by a chartered route over several roads to the point where witnesses have told of seeing a suspicious looking automobile parked the night of the crime. They next will visit the spot where Raoul's cap was found some distance from his body and then return to the home, to take up the trial.

Chief Justice Lamont will sit in the study Delorme used before he was taken to jail.

BURNS TO DEATH IN GARAGE FIRE

SALEM, July 12.—Trapped by a circle of flame, Arthur Broderick, 14 years old, was burned to death last night when an explosion and fire partly destroyed the garage in the rear of his father's home at 51 Tremont street. Thomas McDonald, a neighbor, was scorched about the face and hands trying to rescue the boy.

Young Broderick and Gerald McDonald, son of Thomas, were playing in the garage when an explosion occurred. Broderick, who was behind a pile of barrels and furniture, cried out that he was burning. McDonald called his father. The latter made several attempts to get at the boy, but each time was driven back by the flames.

When the fire department arrived and the firemen extinguished the flames, the body of the boy, which was badly burned, was recovered.

BEDBUGS WANTED
Dept. of Agriculture in Market for 2100

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Persons having hardy and undesirable bedbugs were offered an opportunity to get rid of them at a profit.

The offer came from the Department of Agriculture, which went into the market for 2100 bedbugs for the use of its insecticide board at the experiment station at Vienna, Va. The department bid a cent apiece for good to choice specimens, delivered in Vienna.

TEACHER FINED FOR FLOGGING

FRANKLIN, N. H., July 12.—A fine of $10 and $20 costs was imposed by Judge Clifford of the Franklin municipal court yesterday on Nell Northing, the East Andover teacher who flogged a scholar with a rubber hose. He appealed to the Merrimack county superior court. Members of the Andover board of education furnished sureties for him. Northing says he intends to fight the case to a finish and the school authorities are supporting him.

BLAMED FOR EXPLOSION WHICH ROCKED ACTON

CONCORD, Mass., July 12.—Roy Hatch and Merritt Farrar, both of Acton, were arrested yesterday by state officers in connection with the dynamite explosion in front of the farmhouse of Henry Farrar, on Acton road, South Acton, early on the morning of July 4. The explosion, which rocked Acton, making residents believe that another powder mill of the American Powder Company, in that town, had been blown up, badly damaged the front part of the house. It is believed that the dynamite was placed within 20 feet of the house doorstep, and that the house was saved, in number, were thrown from their beds by the blast, which shook the ground and house foundations, shattering seven large four-pane front windows. The local and state police have since been working on the case.

The two men arrested were locked up in the Concord lockup, and later were bailed out by Francis Farrar of Piper's Pond, Acton, each paying $500. They are both charged with causing a malicious explosion at Acton on July 4. They will be arraigned in the District Court here today.

Safety Lessons FOR The Auto Driver

Prepared by the National Safety Council—Issued by the Massachusetts Safety Council.
No. 6—Autos and Pedestrians

No laws prohibit pedestrians from using the streets. In fact, pedestrians have equal rights on the streets with automobiles and other vehicles, though at their own risk. Because some pedestrians use the streets thoughtlessly and inconsiderately, there is no excuse for the drivers of motor vehicles not taking every precaution to avoid injuring pedestrians.

Pedestrians still greatly outnumber drivers, and if the drivers are a rule breaker, no wonder, pedestrians can pass (or cause to be passed) laws that restrict the use of motor vehicles that their efficient operation would no longer be possible. We as drivers can think of many laws that if enacted and enforced could limit the movement of the pedestrians, but until such laws are passed we must remember that the law is usually on the side of the pedestrian.

Automobile drivers must be especially careful to avoid injuring pedestrians who cross the street at the middle of the block. They are jay-walkers, but they do not absolve us of responsibility.

Many accidents happen at regular crossings. If pedestrians do not or will not pay attention to your horn, remember that some people are deaf, while others are mentally deficient and that hundreds of people are in the streets whose old age, youth, infirmities and physical defects would throw all the responsibility of an accident upon you.

Be especially careful when two or more people are crossing the street together. Quite often before an approaching automobile, one person may stop or they may separate and go in opposite directions.

Above all, do not unnecessarily or suddenly swerve your horn. Pedestrians may be easily frightened and temporarily "paralyzed."

Drivers should stop 5 feet behind the open door of a car which has stopped to load or unload passengers. People who have just alighted from a trolley car are sometimes bewildered and do not know which way to go. Give them plenty of time to get their bearings before attempting to pass them.

Regardless of whom you think is at fault, if your car injures or kills some other person, you are usually held responsible.

Moreover, no matter who was to blame, and in spite of large sums of money paid for "damages," the dead cannot be brought to life, nor could anything or anybody console you in case the one killed happened to be your wife, your child, or some one else near and dear to you.

DISORDER IN PHONE STRIKE

Six Arrested in Clash Between Strike Sympathizers and Springfield Police

Outbreak Followed Address by Miss O'Connor and Other Labor Leaders

Clubs Freely Used by Police and Military Reserves to Prevent Riot

SPRINGFIELD, July 12.—Six persons were arrested, two of them women, in a clash between some 4000 telephone strike sympathizers and strikers and a force of 75 police and military reserves near the telephone company's building late last night, following a mass meeting in Court Square, in the center of the city, in which a crowd estimated at 1800 was addressed by Miss Julia S. O'Connor of Boston, telephone strike leader, and local labor leaders. Clubs were used freely by the officers in quelling an outbreak that appeared to be rapidly assuming the proportions of a riot. This was the first outbreak since that of the night of July 3, when the police were forced to use their clubs in dealing with a crowd made up largely of men and boys.

When the mass meeting ended the striking girls paraded in column formation through the streets to the telephone building, where a large crowd which grew momentarily awaited them. The girls began to picket the building in the mass outside the ropes which the police all the while kept stretched some distance out from the curbing in front of the building. The crowd became noisy, shouting derisive calls and epithets at the police and reserves until after a time police reinforcements were called for and two wagonloads of men were sent to the scene. At the crowd, constantly augmenting, grew more noisy, the officers were ordered to clear the street and this they did in a charge with drawn clubs.

It was about half an hour before conditions were again normal.

Labor leaders said afterward that their object was accomplished in that mass picketing was carried out for a few minutes.

Benefit Dance at Salem
SALEM, July 12.—Eighty-one operators at work today at the local telephone exchange, an increase of two since yesterday. One thousand tickets have been sold for a dance tonight for the benefit of the strikers.

Throw Water On Pickets
LAWRENCE, July 12.—Two telephone strike pickets reported to the police this morning that they had been "showered with water" from an upper window in the telephone exchange building. There was considerable hooting this morning when girls went into the exchange to work, but the several police officers in the vicinity had little to do, the girls confining their activities to noise.

Ordered to Keep Moving
ANDOVER, July 12.—Pickets outside the local telephone exchange were notified by the police today that they must keep moving and that they cannot call those going to work names. This order was communicated by the police when one of the girls at work complained that one of the pickets had insulted her.

PARADE FINAL EVENT AT ELKS' CONVENTION

ATLANTA, Ga., July 12.—Elks overran Atlanta today. It was the occasion of their grand annual parade, the closing event of their 1923 grand lodge convention and reunion, and thousands of members of the order, with two score bands, drum corps and other musical units, picturesque floats and handsome uniforms of purple and white received surrounding attention as they marched through the heart of the city. Approximately 8000 persons were in line.

NON-SUPPORT CASES BEFORE THE COURT

Le Barron C. Karle agreed in district court this morning to pay $5 each week towards the support of his wife, and also agreed to pay one-half her expenses for a minimum to this city amounting to $425.

Karle at first pleaded not guilty to a charge of non-support, but later changed his plea to guilty, upon suggestion of the court, in order that an entry might be made. The case came before the court on mutual agreement of both parties, who are not living together.

Durand was given a suspended sentence of five months on his agreement to contribute $10 each week from now on towards the support of his wife and six children. Judge Enright attempted to effect a reconciliation between the pair, but Mrs. Durand refused.

The case of Ralph Danahue, charged with non-support of his wife and child was continued for one week to allow the probation officer to make a further investigation.

Wilfred Labrie, charged with drunkenness and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, was fined $10 on the latter charge and the drunkenness charge was withdrawn.

Applicants should make inquiries at the office of the organized reserves, 308 Middleboro building or at the local army recruiting office, 25 Central street.

Will Register for Citizens' Camp
Corporal Louis F. Bahl of the regular army has been detailed to work in Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill for work in connection with the Citizens Military Training camp. Registration for this camp is far behind what it should be and the army officials are making a concerted drive to get 5000 signed up before the first of August.

60 Houses Demolished by Flood
SARAGOSSA, Spain, July 12.—Sixty houses in St. Jean and several dwellings in the suburbs of Saragossa have been demolished by flood.

French Loan to Jugo-Slavia Voted
PARIS, July 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The chamber of deputies today voted a loan of 300,000,000 francs to Jugo-Slavia. The vote in favor of granting the loan was 495 to 64.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

PAPER MANUFACTURERS CHARITABLE BUREAU FRAUD IS DISCOVERED

Organize as Committee for Perpetuation of Paper Industry in U. S. Local Organization Doing Splendid Work Among Children in Need Fake Buying Orders for Southern Pacific R. R. Distributed in Wall Street

NEW YORK, July 12.—With a view to solving problems raised by the threatened embargo on pulpwood exports from Canada to the United States, a number of leading paper manufacturers from all sections of the country met today at the Union League club and organized as the "committee for the perpetuation of the paper industry in the United States."

Henry W. Stokes of the York Paper company, Philadelphia, was elected chairman of the executive committee. A. G. Faine, Jr. of the New York and Pennsylvania Paper company, was named vice chairman, and Dr. Hugh P. Baker, executive secretary of the American Paper & Pulp association, was elected secretary.

MEMBER OF NEW YORK EXCHANGE ENDS LIFE

ORANGE, N. J., July 12.—Kenneth M. Eyland, a member of the New York Consolidated exchange, committed suicide at the home of his sister here early today by shooting himself through the head.

Miss Serna Eyland, the sister, told the police Eyland had been despondent because of business troubles. Eyland's two children, Kenneth M. Jr. and Margie, were asleep in the house when their father took his life.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Kenneth M. Eyland, who killed himself today, in Orange, N. J., was a floor trader on the Consolidated stock exchange. He had desk space at 36 Beaver street, New York, and was one of the older members of the exchange, having been admitted Oct. 15, 1905. He handled no customers' accounts.

His accounts with the exchange and the clearing house are in good condition, officials said.

Ad Club Off On 1923 Outing

Kearney square on route to the park. It was a merry throng, an enthusiastic parade of men in all walks of life who today turned back the pages and became boys again.

Thirteen hours of feed, fun and frolic were in store for the fortunate ones when they left the city. And to make the day all the more enjoyable, Old Sol beamed down smilingly and did his level best to add to the pleasure of the occasion. It was not a hot sun, and there was enough breeze to make things comfortable.

In charge of all arrangements was a capable committee, headed by Robert B. Wood. To augment the series of members and friends who left to join the merry-makers this evening, when dancing will be on tap until 1 a. m.

Shortly after arrival at the park luncheon was served. This was in the form of a souvenier luncheon, so called because each article of food was supplied by a Lowell concern, and each concern also distributed souveniers.

The program of sports was started about 2 o'clock, and there were two prizes for each event. During the afternoon also, C. E. Towne, of the local M.C.A., was scheduled to give a demonstration of life saving by the prone method. A group picture of the gathering was taken during the afternoon.

Dinner was scheduled at 6 o'clock, to be served by Cole's Inn. During the dinner there was a drawing for the following prizes:

Mess bag, Frank Beard, bounder lamp, Farway Brothers; pearl beads, Wood-Abbott Co.; combination stop and tall light, Boston Auto Supply company; 15-lb. T. L. Reed ham; Ford tire (Goodyear); Red Arrow Auto Supply; $10 order photograph, Miami Supply; 25-lb. sugar, American Sugar company; sample case of food products, Libby, McNeil Libby; box of "James A." cigars, James A. Kane.

At 8 o'clock will come the climax of the day, when Isham Jones orchestra of Chicago, famous throughout the country as the makers of Brunswick dance records, will play dancing which will last until 1 o'clock in the morning. This famous orchestra is from the college town, famous dancing resort in Chicago.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. Music during the reception was furnished by an orchestra and a wedding supper was served. After an extended wedding trip to Buffalo and Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Farrington will live at 36 Forest street.

Farrington-Moran
At 5:15 o'clock at the rectory of the Sacred Heart church yesterday afternoon, Mr. Paul P. Farrington, a well known young man of Belvidere, and Miss Alice H. Moran, a well known young lady of the Sacred Heart parish, were united in the bonds of matrimony. Miss Gertrude L. Moran, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mr. John C. Farrington, 2nd, was best man. Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., performed the ceremony.

The bride wore white tulle and carried a bouquet of roses, orchids and lilies-of-the-valley. She wore a veil caught up with lilies-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid wore turquoise blue georgette with pique hat to match.

DETROIT JUDGE SETS RECORD

Qualifies as Champion Long Distance Trial Judge of Michigan

Disposes of 641 Traffic Cases in Continuous 15 and One-Half Hour Session

DETROIT, July 12.—Harry B. Keldan of municipal court qualified today as champion long distance trial judge of Michigan, and perhaps of America. Sitting continuously for 15 and one-half hours, Judge Keldan disposed of 641 traffic cases, imposed several jail sentences and collected $4551 in fines.

From 8 o'clock yesterday morning when the court session began, until court adjourned at 12:30 o'clock this morning, the corridors outside the court room, and the court room itself were jammed with men and women waiting for their cases to be called. So dense was the crowd that a system of one way traffic was put into effect to facilitate the flow of defendants to the bar.

An average of less than a minute and a half for each case was maintained. Judge Keldan had no fixed penalty for speeders, but imposed varying penalties. Several men, charged with flagrant violations, were sent to jail without the option of a fine. Two men were given 10 days' jail sentences, while three others were sent to jail for five days and fined $100 each.

COURIER-CITIZEN PLANS EXPANSION PROGRAM

The Courier-Citizen Newspaper Co. announces an expansion program which will mean re-location in the building now known as the Prescott mill storehouse, a part of the Massachusetts Mills in East Merrimack street, between the Howe building and canal.

The Courier-Citizen for some time has been conscious of its need of more working space and has felt the inadequacy of the present plant for several years.

If present plans materialize the mill building will be completely reconstructed, beginning probably in August, with the actual transfer of the plant coming next year.

IRISH SOCIETIES OCCUPY NEW ROOMS

The local divisions of the A.O.U.L., the Irish National Pottery, the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Clan na Gael, removed their headquarters from Middle street last night and for the next three years will occupy rooms in the Grosvenor building, formerly used as a commercial school. All future meetings will be held in these rooms, which, though somewhat smaller than the previously engaged quarters, are expected to fulfill the needs of the various organizations until an exclusive home is procured.

Sny Strike to Continue
WASHINGTON, July 12.—Officials of the International Association of Machinists here said today that Judge Wilkerson's action in Chicago in making permanent the injunction against the railroad shop strikers of 1922, will not affect their conduct of the strike which will, they insisted, still be in effect on a large number of eastern railroads.

It was pointed out that B. M. Jewell, as chairman of the strike organization of the railroad unions and other leaders had in April last, refused to oppose the government petition for a permanent injunction, on the ground that the unions were not considering unlawful action and were not engaged in public assemblies to bring about unlawful action.

Brockton Mayor Calls Official Conference to Meet at Noon Saturday

Invites Rival Unions, Aldermen and Councilmen to Send Representatives

BROCKTON, July 12.—Mayor Frank A. Manning has called an official conference to consider the industrial situation at noon Saturday. He has addressed invitations to the Manufacturers' association, the strikers' new union, the regular central labor union which may be considered as representing the B. & S.W.U. and the president of the board of aldermen and the president of the common council.

The associations addressed are asked to send two representatives each to meet the mayor. The strike truce arranged yesterday will continue until after the conference unless the strikers get out of the hands of their leaders, which is rumored but not confirmed.

Britain Ready to Answer Note

He would say tomorrow whether the reply was being communicated to the United States.

Commander Kenworthy, liberal member for Hull, asked whether the government had been approached by the United States in the matter of reparations. Mr. Baldwin's reply was described by the newspapers as inaudible but belief was expressed by those near him that he had said no.

Mr. Baldwin failed to state what the British proposals will be in the note the government intends framing nor did he say anything in regard to an international commission to examine claims against Germany.

Premier Baldwin said it could not be made too clear that the sole ground of divergence was not the best effective means of settling the ends which were vital to all. These ends were the payment of reparations and the recovery of the security of Europe. To secure these ends, he said, the allies "have grudging nothing in the past, nor will they grudge anything in the future."

"This responsibility," he went on, "is acknowledged and shared in equal measure by the allies but devolves especially on the French and British nations. We are as determined as any of our allies that Germany shall make reparations for the damages done in the great war, to the fullest extent of her capacity. We have never wavered on that point. The government is convinced that as a business nation it will ask Germany to pay in excess of her capacity, we shall not succeed."

"We are firmly convinced that measures which would result in the ruin of Germany would be fatal to this country, our allies, and the whole of Europe. The allies are obtaining less reparations than before the occupation of the Ruhr and these have to be exacted at the price of dislocation of the German economic system and probably the future collapse of that system."

"Opinion throughout Europe and not the least in Great Britain, is becoming more sensitive to these conditions, with alarm at their continuance. The recovery of the world is in danger. Peace is at stake. Peace cannot be secured until three questions are settled, first, the payment of reparations; second, settlement of the inter-allied debt; and the third, the security of a pacified Europe."

Dealing with the present situation in the Ruhr, the premier said indefinite occupation by one country of the territory of another in time of peace was a phenomenon rare and regrettable, to which an honorable end should be found as soon as possible.

The proposals set forth in the recent German note were inadequate, he admitted, but they should be explored and examined not ignored.

Last Minute Changes
LONDON, July 12.—(By the Associated Press) Last minute changes were made by the cabinet this noon in the ministerial declaration on the reparations questions.

It has been decided that debate on the statement in the house of commons will be deferred until next week, after the European countries and the United States have had an opportunity to record their views.

The British government's future course of action is expected to be influenced in no mean degree by the public opinion of the world, but especially by the expression of opinion on the part of the British empire's hundreds of millions of population.

The idea of an international commission of experts to examine Germany's financial resources, as first suggested by Secretary of State Hughes, will not be advanced this afternoon, according to the best information, but will be presented some time later during the discussion.

Gala Day For Lowell Clerks

LOWELL GREET'S LEGION COMMANDER OWSLEY

LEGION HEAD COMES TO CITY

Famous World War Veteran Arrives This Afternoon as Welcome Guest

Parade, Banquet and Big Public Meeting Will Feature Program

Col. Alvin T. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, arrived in Lowell shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon, to remain until late this evening as the city's honored guest. While here he will receive the keys of the city from the hands of Mayor John J. Donovan, will be seated at a banquet in Liberty hall held under the auspices of Lowell Post, A. L., and later will speak at a public gathering in the Memorial Auditorium.

Under escort of Commander Joseph A. Molloy, the distinguished visitor was taken directly to the York club upon arrival. A rather deserted city was before the national commander's eyes, due to the clerks' annual holiday, but the program of later afternoon and evening will round out a busy and eventful visit.

This morning final plans for the distinguished colonel's royal reception by the city and by the local Legion, were reached. Shortly before 11 o'clock, Richard A. Griffiths, in his Hudson limousine, accompanied by the national commander, Owsley, and the local Legion commander, Molloy, departed for the city.

COL. ALVIN T. OWSLEY

motored over the road to Boston with County Commander S. Curtis Garrity, Lowell Commander Captain Joseph A. Molloy and Historian John J. Walsh for the purpose of meeting Commander Owsley and escorting him to Lowell. They arrived shortly before 3 o'clock, accompanied by Dr. Kate Water Barrett, national president of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Thousands of Clerks Forsake Counter and Office for Sea Shore and Country on Occasion of Annual Holiday

The most pronounced recession in the history of the city of Lowell's male and female store clerks, from the daily communion with bargain-seeking shoppers, was witnessed early this morning when a large and happy contingent of Bon Marche, Gagnon, Pollard, Triller, Chaffin, Coburn, Nelson, Kresge, Bartlett and Dow, the United Clerk and Suit Co. and drug store clerks, bade good-bye to the city of spindles and sought refuge for the day in the invigorating atmosphere along the Atlantic seaboard. It is the clerks' annual outing day.

Punctuality marked the rhythmic departures of the various store organizations this morning. The several thousand clerks, awakened bright and early to the realization that their own "bargain" day was at hand, assembled at their allotted gathering places to await the signal to move. Optimism reigned supreme as an obliging July sun cast its inviting rays over the picture, presaging perfect climatic conditions for out-door recreation and amusement. Lifting voices, smiling countenances and happy hearts prevalent during the earlier hours of the morning only made more conspicuous the commotion which naturally pervaded the entire business section of the city upon their departure and during their limited absence.

The unusual exodus made Lowell a decidedly deserted municipality as "nobody worked but father." It seemed, and it is safe to wager that even he, like the rest of us stay-at-homes, felt the call of this annual suspension of labor.

One of the more noticeable features of the numerous excursions today was

MAYOR SATISFIED WITH CONDITION OF CITY APPROPRIATIONS

Report of City Auditor for First Half of Year Shows Only Four Departments Running Ahead of Pro-rated Monthly Expenditures—School, Fire and Police Departments May Finish Year With Credit Balance

In his semi-annual financial statement of the city department appropriations issued today, City Auditor Martin sets forth figures showing that four of the departments, the ash and waste, isolation hospital, street maintenance and Vocational school, will exceed their appropriations in 1923 if the expenditures for the remaining six months equal those of the first half year. On the other hand, figuring the first six months on the same basis of the first six months, the school department, fire department and police department will at the end of the year show a balance in their appropriations.

According to the figures of the auditor the school department will show an excess in its appropriation of $15,736.77. The appropriation for the department was $1,190,006.13. Of that amount $71,655.77 has been expended, leaving a balance on hand of $518,320.36. If the appropriation is figured on a 16-month basis and allowances are made for fixed charges for July and August and using the average contingent expense during the same period for the past five years, the department will finish the year with an excess in show a balance in their appropriations.

IDEAL WEATHER FOR BIG BOUT RECORD CROWD TO ATTEND

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 12.—Fair weather was predicted today for the Firpo-Willard heavyweight match tonight in Boyle's Thirty Acres.

Early this morning a thin line of fogs had gathered at the entrances to general admission sections. Seats in which will be on sale at 5 o'clock at $1 and $2. By noon the crowd had increased to more than 500. A demand for tickets unprecedented in his experience in promoting big fights, was announced early this afternoon by Tex Rickard as thousands lined all approaches to Madison Square Garden seeking pastebards for the Firpo-Willard match tonight at Boyle's Thirty Acres.

INJUNCTION AGAINST 400,000 R. R. SHOPMEN MADE PERMANENT

Final Decree Making Permanent the Temporary Injunction Obtained by U. S. Government Oct. 5, 1922 Entered Today By Federal Judge Wilkerson—Most Widespread Restraining Order on Record

CHICAGO, July 12.—(By the Associated Press) A final decree making permanent the temporary injunction Judge James H. Wilkerson obtained by the United States government in federal court here, October 5, 1922, against the railway employees' demand for a 100,000 railroad employees and firemen of Labor, its officers and others, restraining them from interfering in any manner with the operation of railroads, was entered today.

VISCOUNT GREY ADMITS POSSIBILITY OF CONFLICT WITH JAPAN

LONDON, July 12.—(By the Associated Press) The British government believes the European situation to be so uncertain as to render inadvisable the initiation of an international conference on aerial armament limitation. The house of lords in the course of a discussion last night in which the possibility of war clouds were openly mentioned, was told by the Marquis of Salisbury, lord president of the council, that, although the government was on record as desiring to face the situation of an armistice, it was not to justify heavy expenditures at Singapore.

Both young and old the banquet board survived. And many a gambler frolicked o'er the ground. And trials of speed and feats of strength went round. And still as each repeated pleasure thrill. Some jazzy steps ran Isham Jones inspired."

KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

New York Man Hurl'd to Death When Catapulted From Car in New Bedford

NEW BEDFORD, July 12.—John Jackson, of New York city, was instantly killed shortly before noon when he was catapulted from the automobile he was driving, landing head first in the middle of the road at Hamlin's corner. Mr. Jackson was the guest of Arthur W. White, 291 Washington street, Roxbury, Mass., who was badly cut about the face and sustained an injury to one of his legs. Mr. White gave a short account of the accident to Dr. Albert Clark, stating that Jackson clamped on the brakes suddenly, and the next minute he lay stunned in the roadway of the car, which was overturned.

SPRINGFIELD MAYOR WARNS STRIKERS

SPRINGFIELD, July 12.—Further gatherings of striking telephone operators, such as the one of last night, which culminated in a riotous outbreak near the telephone building later in the evening, "will have to be prevented if that is what they are going to do," said Mayor E. F. Leonard today in referring to the clash. The six persons arrested last night pleaded not guilty in district court today, to charges ranging from assault upon an officer to profanity.

BUSINESS SECTION OF COHASSET MENAGED

COHASSET, July 12.—The business district of this town was threatened for a time today by fire which destroyed the Harbor garage at Elm and Margin streets, owned by Alfred Silvia. Half a dozen automobiles were ruined. Several persons were slightly burned when the explosion of a gasoline tank scattered the flames, but no one was seriously hurt. Help was sent from neighboring towns and the fire was extinguished without spreading to other buildings. The loss is estimated at about $15,000.

MOVE TO UNIONIZE 100,000 STEEL WORKERS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 12.—A campaign to unionize the 100,000 steel workers in the Cleveland district stretching from Buffalo to Toledo, started today with the arrival of William Hannon, secretary-treasurer of the executive council of national and international organizations in the steel industry.

IMPROVEMENT IN TELEPHONE SERVICE

BOSTON, July 12.—Continued increases in the operating forces affected by the strike of telephone operators in five states were reported today by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. At noon neither company nor union had accepted the invitation of mayors of eight cities to confer with them in Providence tomorrow to devise means for settling the strike, called on June 26 to enforce demands for increased pay and a seven hour working day. At strikers' headquarters it was said that the conference offer probably would be accepted as the executive committee had convened. Union officials asserted that the company was maintaining service in many places by employing traffic men in 20 hour shifts to supervise untrained operators.

Lowell Druggists Have Gala Day at Hampton Beach

LOWELL DRUGGISTS AND CLERKS AWAITING TRANSPORTATION TO HAMPTON BEACH

The members of the Lowell Druggists' Association were also "blitten" by the ongoing bug today. Drug stores were closed at 3:30 o'clock and half an hour later all boarded 40 automobiles provided for their convenience. Together with the proprietors of the stores were their clerks and invited guests, numbering about 225. The machines left Paige street shortly after 10 o'clock for Hampton beach.

Upon arrival at the beach, shortly after noon, the druggists immediately went to the Ashworth hotel where dinner tables had been reserved for them. Sports and games were on schedule for the afternoon in a program of sports.

There were races for the junior clerks senior clerks and proprietors and a cigar race for the proprietors was one of the feature events and there were plenty of "smokes" at its conclusion. A large number of the party went in bathing and still other members were lured to the dance floor. The return trip will be made late in the evening. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Frank Finnerty, William Noonan, Charles Devenaux, John Walsh, Lucien Brunelle and Fred Jones.

FROM THE SUBCONSCIOUS MIND

"Truth serum" the discovery of Dr. E. H. House of Ferris, Tex., came in for much discussion at the recent American Medical association convention in San Francisco. Technically known as scopolamine, the serum renders the conscious mind inoperative, and the subject is said to answer truthfully from his subconscious. Many think the answers no more reliable than they would be from a person influenced by a drug. Dr. House is shown here injecting it into a volunteer subject, though he has tested it on convicts of San Quentin prison.

JONES TWO OVER PAR INJUNCTION GRANTED

Cruickshank, His Partner, One Under—Scores in Qualifying Round at Inwood

INWOOD, N. Y., July 12.—(By the Associated Press) Bobby Jones was two over par for the first six holes of his morning round in qualifying play for the national open golf championship. Bob Cruickshank, his partner, was one under.

Jones had par four on the first two but got into trouble on the par five. His mashie shot found a sand pit guarding the green and he took two strokes to get out, with three putts for a seven. The fourth he negotiated in par, but found the rough with his brassie on the sixth. He pitched into another trap and holed out in two for a six, one over par.

Jesse P. Guilford, Boston amateur, went out in 41, running par on all but the second and seventh holes, where he went one over and the par four eighth, where he needed six.

Eddie Held of the Algonquin club in Webster Groves, Mo., went to places on the first nine, taking seven on the par five and one over par on the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth, but recovered coming home, making a par 36. He went one over on the 13th, but had a birdie three on the 17th.

Charles F. Lorne of Columbus, Ohio, and B. F. O'Neill were the first of the final qualifying field to tee off. They were closely followed by Eddie Held of Algonquin, Mo., and Eugene McCarthy of Green Valley, Pa.

Cruickshank had a birdie three on the second. Although he was being out-driven by the Atlanta youth, Cruickshank's second shot was more accurate, and he had better luck with his putts. Jones rimmed the cup on the second with a 12-foot putt, losing a birdie three and the same thing happened to a 20-foot putt on the fourth.

Jones was one over par with a four in the short seventh, his chip being short. He played the eighth and ninth for a card of 40. Cruickshank took a five on the par four eighth hole, the only hole excepting the seventh in which he was over par.

Jones, the master driver, outdistanced his professional partner from the tee by 10 to 50 yds but Cruickshank was extraordinarily accurate with his irons and found the greens when Jones found traps. Jones was one over par on the 11th and 13th holes coming in and was par on the 12th, the eighth and 10th.

Cruickshank was one over par on the 11th and 13th but sunk a 12 foot putt for a birdie four on the 14th.

Long Jim Barnes, open champion in 1921, turned his first nine in 36, one under par. He was one over on the first hole, but had a birdie three on the second and a birdie four on the fourth sinking 15 foot putts on both holes.

TO INVESTIGATE SOURCES OF WATER SUPPLY

BOSTON, July 12.—The proposal to use the valleys of the Ware and Swift rivers as a source of water supply for metropolitan Boston, will be investigated by the state legislative committee on water supply in the course of the summer recess. Members of the committee, after surveying sources of water supply in Lawrence and Methuen next week, will go to Central and western Massachusetts to obtain information regarding the Ware and Swift river project. The undertaking, planned on the pre-war basis, would cost $60,000,000 and would necessitate the wiping out of several communities. Other water supply sources in western Massachusetts also will be surveyed.

No one was in the house at the time, and the cause of the fire, which started in the attic is unknown. The mansion was built by the late Edwin Ginn, the publisher.

PAINE QUILTS HIS FEDERATION POST

Directors Defer Action on Resignation Until Full
Board Convenes

Plans to Preach at Trinity
Church Sunday — Final
Word From Lt. Hague

BOSTON, July 12.—Explaining that his action was solely to free the hand of the Greater Boston Federation of Churches, Rev. George L. Paine of Cambridge, who was punched by Lieut. Wesley McLaren Hague, U.S.N., Monday, for kissing the latter's wife, yesterday tendered his resignation as executive secretary of the federation.

This action was taken at a special meeting of the board of directors of the federation, called at the Boston City club yesterday afternoon by Mr. Paine himself. Rev. Ernest G. Guthrie, president of the federation, returned to Boston from Concordville, on Cape Cod, to attend.

The conference, held behind closed doors, lasted more than four hours, and at its conclusion an announcement was made that in view of the fact that some members are on their vacations, no action upon Mr. Paine's resignation ought to be taken until a meeting of the full board can be held.

Plans to Preach Sunday

The situation remains unchanged with regard to whether Mr. Paine will preach on Sunday in Trinity church, where he is scheduled to fill the pulpit of Rev. Dr. Henry K. Sherrill who is now in Ridgefield, Conn. Mr. Paine has reiterated his intention of preaching at Trinity church, as if nothing out of the ordinary had occurred, saying that Dr. Sherrill himself, when acquainted with the situation, told him to make no change in the plan.

An effort to reach Dr. Sherrill at Ridgefield proved fruitless, but Harry E. Miller, sexton of Trinity church, stated last night that he had received no word of any change in the program and that unless otherwise directed, he should send the advertisements announcing Mr. Paine as preacher to the newspapers today.

Text of Resignation

Mr. Paine's resignation, which was dated yesterday, read as follows: "To the Board of Directors of the Greater Boston Federation of Churches: 'Gentlemen and Brethren—My chief desire is to help the Greater Boston Federation of Churches at the present time, and, feeling that it and not I should determine my fitness to continue in office, I herewith tender my resignation as executive secretary. I want it understood that this tender on my part in no wise expresses my own judgment in the matter, but is solely to free the hands of the directors of the federation.'

Statement by Directors

The resignation was handed in in person by Mr. Paine, who was present at the earlier part of the meeting. At some members are on their vacations, no action upon Mr. Paine's resignation was agreed upon unanimously, and given out to the newspapermen, who waited in the corridor for four hours.

"It was the hope of that portion of the board present that action upon this communication should be taken by a meeting of the whole board, duly called for that purpose. Those present greatly deplored the conduct, frankly and publicly acknowledged by Mr. Paine, in view of his splendid record of life service and unimpeached integrity they bespeak for him the Christian and friendly consideration of the public."

Rev. Fletcher D. Parker, who gave this statement out at the conclusion of the meeting, explained that in view of the unusual nature of the case nothing else could be said at this time. Neither

Newer Form of Iron Quickly Increases 'Pep' Strength and Energy

"You cannot be well and strong, and full of vigor, force and power unless your blood is rich in iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician Bellevue Hospital (Out-Door Department), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "It is your red blood that enables you to resist and overcome disease and that nourishes every organ in your body. Without iron your blood becomes thin, pale and watery. Poor blood cannot nourish your vital organs and as a result you may have pains in your heart or kidneys, indigestion, headaches, and feel all run-down and tired-out."

When your blood lacks iron do not waste your time taking stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, but directly enrich your blood with the newer form of iron sold by all druggists under the name of Nuxated Iron which is like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, and is in a form easily assimilated into your blood.

Get a bottle of Nuxated Iron today. Take it for two weeks and if you have not like thousands of others, obtained most surprising health, strength and energy, the manufacturers will promptly refund your money. The following local druggists will sell you Nuxated Iron with this "satisfaction or money back" guarantee.—Ad.

is it possible to say now, just how soon a meeting of the whole board can be arranged, because so many of the members are out of town.

"All that we can ask at the present time," said Dr. Guthrie, "is that the whole unfortunate affair be forgotten for the time being."

Whatever the opinions of the directors present yesterday may have been the expressions and demeanor of the majority upon their final departure seemed to indicate satisfaction in the course finally decided upon.

Lieut. Hague's "Final Word"

Before leaving Boston with his bride, as he plans to do today in order to sail tomorrow from New York for the Pacific coast, Lieut. Hague issued a statement, which he declares to be his final one, saying that no legal action of any sort is contemplated against the minister who has no apologies whatever to offer for his attack upon the minister. Lieut. Hague's statement, which is made at the instigation of his attorney and personal friend, George H. Hudson, follows:

"My attitude in Mr. Paine's office was the direct result of his repeated attempts to kiss my wife in spite of her protests and active opposition which constitute and insult no man in honor could overlook. I have absolutely no excuse to offer for my actions in his office and the suggestion that I apologize to him is absolutely absurd. I have no intention of apologizing as suggested in the postscript of his apology to my wife and Mrs. Hague of course has no intention of doing so. I consider that I did what any man would do who found himself in a similar predicament. My only thought at any time has been to uphold my wife's honor and this episode has simply endeared her more to me.

Shattered Her Ideal

"I consistently refrained from talking to newspapermen relative to the matter until I was assured that the Rev. Mr. Paine has talked at length about his actions, and then in defense of my wife's honor I told my side of the story.

"The terrible and enduring wrong which Mr. Paine has done us is in the shattering of Mrs. Hague's ideal of the minister who baptized her and united us in holy matrimony. This is irreparable. Money damages cannot reconstruct these ideals, hence neither Mrs. Hague nor I contemplate civil action against Dr. Paine; and for fear that the public may think I have any mercenary motives in this matter, I wish to have it understood that I have received as much satisfaction as I desire, and the fact that the Rev. Mr. Paine has received such publicity in my opinion has punished him more than any court action that I might take.

Wife's Honor Vindicated

"I have been asked to divulge the contents of letters from the people in this vicinity who have been kind enough to write me during the past few days. These are personal letters which I cannot give to the press without the consent of the writers. I feel that my wife's honor has been completely vindicated by Mr. Paine's own statement and I feel that any one who may read them would reach that conclusion.

"This is my final statement in the case. Regardless of what any one may say, the public knows the story and nothing could be gained by further comment on my part. We sail from New York the latter part of this week for the west coast, where I was detailed prior to this incident. During the 30-day voyage, we will do our best to forget the affair and neither Mrs. Hague nor I have any personal interest in the action of the diocesan authorities or the Federation of Churches. We trust the public will deal as leniently as possible with this erring gentleman."

COMMITTEE TO VISIT LOWELL

Legislative Body on Water Supply May Come Here Next Wednesday

Will Inspect Lowell Wells and Filters and Inspect Possible Sources

(Special to The Sun) BOSTON, July 12.—The joint standing committee on water supply of the legislature, which was directed to sit during the legislative recess to continue the study of water supply resources, with particular reference to further development of the system in metropolitan Boston by taking the waters of the Ware and Swift rivers, will begin its investigation with an inspection of the various proposed sources of supply, not only in the valleys of the Ware and Swift, but in other parts of the state where there are projected developments independent of the Metropolitan district.

Primarily the purpose of the committee is to study the question whether it might not be possible to bring the Metropolitan water supply up to the requirements of future years without resorting to the plan of utilizing the Ware and Swift rivers, as recommended by the joint board that produced that scheme, to which there is much opposition on the part of interests in that section of the state.

First, the committee will give its

Reduce Your Fat Without Dieting

Tears ago the formula for fat reducing was "diet"—exercise. Today it is "Take Allen's Foot-Ease." Friends tell friends—these friends tell others. They eat substantial food, live as they like and will reduce steadily and easily without going through long periods of exercise and starvation diet. Do Your Feet Hurt?

When shoes pinch or corns and bunions ache, get a package of Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic, healing powder to be shaken into the shoes. It takes the sting out of corns, bunions and callouses, and gives instant relief to smarting, aching, swollen feet. At night when your feet ache and burn from walking or dancing sprinkle some Allen's Foot-Ease in the foot-bath and you will solve your foot troubles. Over 1,000,000 pounds of powder for the feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war. Sold everywhere. Trial Package and a Foot-Ease Walking Roll sent free. HOLLAND'S Far-East COFFEE

The Coffee used to make Holland's FAR-EAST blend are brought to us from the finest plantations on the face of the earth. Then, by careful roasting and blending we produce this excellent beverage that has become a favorite with people to whom a high-grade coffee is a delight. You can buy FAR-EAST Coffee at nearly all grocers—and it costs no more than an ordinary brand.

It is the only coffee packed by a roaster known to contain both ARABIAN MOCHA and GENUINE JAVA in the blend.

We consider our coffee too good to put into a cardboard or paper container so we pack it in a VACUUM TIN which not only insures you that the appealing flavor will last, but has also been found to be more sanitary and very much handier.

We know that your first cup will be an irresistible invitation to partake of another.

MANY LICENSES ARE SUSPENDED

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Acts Against Several Lowell People

Registration Certificates of Two Other Lowell People Are Revoked

(Special to The Sun) BOSTON, July 12.—The state registrar of motor vehicles has suspended the license to operate motor vehicles of Harvey E. Chambers of 1489 Middlesex street, Lowell, as he has reason to believe that Chambers operated a motor vehicle after drinking intoxicating liquor.

Also believing that Charles M. Nugent of 13 L street, Lowell, operated a motor vehicle after drinking intoxicating liquor, the registrar has decided that he is not the proper person to operate motor vehicles and has suspended his license to operate.

A motor vehicle owned by William C. Denis of 8 Rockdale avenue, Lowell, is improperly equipped as to lights. The registrar has revoked Denis' registration certificate.

A motor vehicle owned by Rose S. Nugent of 13 L street, Lowell, is not properly equipped with lights. Her registration certificate has been revoked.

Harry C. Wildner of 698 Westford street, Lowell, on June 10 operated a motor vehicle improperly in Wayland. His right to operate has been suspended.

Hue P. Pindelson of 155 Lowell street, Methuen, is not a proper person to operate motor vehicles, and his license to operate has been suspended.

Leonard P. Belinger of 145 Arlington street, Dracut, was the operator of a motor vehicle which was involved in an accident which resulted in the death of Lea Glenda of Lowell. His license to operate has been suspended.

FIREWORKS EXPLOSIONS CRAZE WAR PATIENT

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 12.—Arthur Maynard of New Bedford, a shell-shocked World War veteran, ran amuck in the American Legion dugout in Syracuse, attacked a stenographer with a chair and broke window panes with his fist before he was controlled. He was under treatment for a nervous trouble at the Red Cross headquarters and told them that the sound of explosions July 4 had greatly intensified his sufferings.

He was unable to give accounts of his troubles since leaving New Bedford, but made most of the route by fits in passing automobiles. He is well supplied with money, but is suffering from partial loss of memory. He will be returned to New Bedford, where he is employed in a cotton broker's office.

TO INVESTIGATE DEATH

Body of Man Found Buried Beneath Tons of Debris in Garbage Scow

BOSTON, July 12.—The body of the man found buried beneath tons of debris in a garbage scow at the wharf of the Coleman Disposal company, near Border street, East Boston, yesterday, was identified at the Northern mortuary late in the day as that of Robinson Wood, aged 23, married, of 65 Walter avenue, Brookline. Death, in the opinion of Medical Examiner Brickley, was due to a crushed chest and as a result of the conditions surrounding the man's death he has asked an investigation into the case by the police.

Wood was employed as a driver by Mrs. Mary Doyle of Jamaica Plain, who has a contract for the disposal of garbage. With him on the wagon was the woman's son, John Doyle, and the pair collected garbage in the downtown district during the day and carried it to the wharf of the Coleman company, at the foot of Oliver street, where it was dumped into scows and then towed to East Boston for loading onto cars. Wood and Doyle went to the wharf with a load of garbage, Monday, about 3 p.m. The garbage was dumped into scow No. 13. This was the same scow which was being unloaded at East Boston yesterday, when the legs of Wood were seen sticking up out of a pile by Samuel Stinecutter of 187 Saratoga street, East Boston, a hoisting engineer.

Wood did not return home Monday night and search was started for him by his bride of three months, his father and brother. Doyle was questioned, according to the father of the victim, his statements helped them little in their search.

Doyle is credited with having said that when the load was dumped Wood was at hand and that shortly afterwards he missed his companion. He did not hear any outcry, and according to the relatives of the victim, Doyle remained around the slip for about 15 minutes and then drove away, engaging another man to assist him in the collecting for the rest of the day.

Last night Wood's father, Artemus Wood, who lives at 50 White place, Brookline, accompanied by another son and a friend, went to the morgue and informed Dr. Brickley of the story, as they knew it. He accompanied them to police headquarters where they again made a report and asked an investigation, as did the medical examiner.

It is understood the matter will be taken up today by the police of the City Hall avenue station, in whose jurisdiction is the wharf of the company. Dr. Brickley has established that the body must have been in the scow at the time it left the wharf, as it was buried beneath tons of garbage and had been for some time. Decomposition had not progressed quite rapidly and to a great extent by the time the body was found.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

RIALTO THEATRE

There will be a complete change of program at the Rialto today. "Shattered Idols," a spectacular production starring Margaret Lee Morte and James Morrison is the chief attraction and "The Web of the Law" with Patricia Palmer is the added feature.

"Shattered Idols" is a beautiful love story that takes place in India. There is a thrilling battle scene with over 5000 people participating. Ethel Gray Terry is also in the cast. "The Web of the Law" is a somewhat different western picture that contains a big punch. A Mack Sennet comedy and a feature will conclude the bill for the latter half of the week.

Hereafter the programs at the Rialto will change thrice a week, Sunday, Monday and Thursday.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"Burning Sands," the greatest desert romance ever shown on the screen, is the feature attraction of the current bill at the Merrimack Square theatre. It's ten times better than "The Sheik." The other feature is "Adam and Eve," a tale of laughter, starring Marie Davies. They're both Paramount pictures.

THE STRAND

Anita Stewart's latest picture feature, "Rose O' The Sea," is unusual for two reasons that are quite apart from the remarkable plot and capable direction which the picture presents. The first is the reappearance of Rudolph Cameron, former leading man on the screen. The second is the unusual contrast of a star having her husband as leading man, "Rose O' The Sea" is adapted from the popular book by

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

"Thousands and thousands of people," says Peterson of Buffalo, "are learning every week that one 35-cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money."

"I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the agony. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson for the cure is great." Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone." A. P. Ruger, 1127 Washington avenue, Racine, Wis.

Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, salt rheum, chafing and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it.—Adv.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength

This preparation for the treatment of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.—Adv.

POLICE RECOVER LOOT OF MANY BREAKS

BOSTON, July 12.—Held as suspicious persons, but alleged to be the men who have perpetrated several breaks in the downtown district within the past couple of months by smashing open the display windows of stores, Arthur M. Alden, 22, married, of West Newton street, and Joseph E. Walker, 26, of Clarendon street, were arrested last night in the Back Bay station as they stepped off a Providence train.

In a room in Clarendon street, the police claim they found a sidewalk brick covered with heavy felt, which was used to break the windows, and loot to the value of thousands of dollars which is alleged to have been secured by the operations of the men.

Among the loot were valuables stolen from the window of the Bigelow, Kennard company yesterday morning, when it was smashed by a missile from the street.

The police claim that Alden and Walker had been in Providence in an attempt to dispose of some of the stolen articles, only to discover when they arrived in that city that the pawnshops were closed on Wednesday afternoon. They then returned here and were headed for the Clarendon-street house when captured.

Captain Gallivan of the Roxbury Crossing station received a tip allowing the Bigelow, Kennard break as to the identity of the men who had committed it. He and Captain Driscoll of the East Dedham street station, Captain Goodwin of the Lagrange street station and Inspector Cronin, Sergeant McDonald, Special Officers Dr. Sessio, O'Neill, Hartigan, Mullin and McNabb worked on the case during the day and were on hand when the arrests were made.

The loot formed a miscellaneous assortment, included in which was a seal-skin coat and three fur pieces, valued at $1260, stolen from the window of the fur store of Otto Fiskier at 38 Boston street, when it was robbed some weeks ago; five clocks, two compasses, pearl earrings and eight watches, stolen from the Bigelow, Kennard company and valued at $5000; a radio outfit, owned by the Pitts Radio corporation of 209 Columbus avenue, and stolen from an automobile in front of the store, Bay station, and several bottles of perfume, stolen from the store of the Samuel Bernardino Perfumery company, at 423 Columbus avenue.

Countess Barynska and tells the story of a wife from the sea who, on the death of her guardian and protector, is forced to make her way on to New York. Her lack of guile and sophistication win her a place of honor even in the matured metropolis. Involved in a story of petty jealousies, aristocratic conventions and gambling affairs is a plot of simple heart interest and genuine appeal in which the girl from the country shows her deep faith in the abiding virtues of life, winning a triumph through them. This picture is the feature attraction for the last three days of the week, starting today.

MORE HONORS FOR McADOO

Dr. Rufus B. Von Kleinsmid, president of the University of Southern California (right) conferring the honorary degree of doctor of laws upon William G. McAdoo, Woodrow Wilson's son-in-law, at the college graduation exercises in Los Angeles.

I.W.W.'s on charges of criminal syndicalism and the sentence of from one to 14 years in San Quentin penitentiary passed on each of them.

Predictions were voiced by speakers at last night's meeting that loggers in the northwest would join the strike and declarations made that a similar movement was planned along the Atlantic coast.

The 27 men convicted yesterday were to be started for San Quentin in a special car today with 17 others previously convicted, and given penitentiary sentences.

THREE JOIN NAVY

Chief T. Frederick, local navy recruiting officer, signed up three men yesterday for service in the navy and they were accepted at the Charleston Navy Yard. They are John Hatch, 42 Main street; Herman Higgins, 5 Dutton street; and John F. Walsh, 28 Lundberg street. All three will be sent to the Naval Training station at Newport, R. I., for a six weeks course of training.

Lowell Will Welcome Owsley

State Commander William H. Doyle and State Adjutant Leo A. Spillane, shortly after arrival it was planned to have the entire party visit one or two of the manufacturing plants of the city.

The reception will get under way officially at 6 o'clock when Mayor Donovan will present an ornamental key to Col. Owsley on the steps at city hall, where a platform has been erected for the ceremony. The municipal building is attractively decorated with American flags and bunting, while the majority of the downtown stores display the national colors and add a brilliant touch to the scene.

Commander Molloy today emphasized his previous appeals to the war veterans of the city to turn out en masse and participate in the reception to the celebrated visitor—the first national commander to visit Lowell since the Legion's organization. In view of the fact that Col. Owsley is a noted lawyer, a former attorney-general of Texas, a distinguished soldier in the World war, chairman of the Americanization committee of the American Legion and now its chief executive, the committee in charge of his local appearance looks for a celebration of surpassing merit.

Because of Col. Owsley's affiliations with many fraternal organizations, today's reception is not confined solely to the Legion. The Masonic order, the Loyal Lodge of Elks, the Rotary club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Spanish War Veterans, and the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, have all promised their co-operation to make epochal the guest's limited stay in this city.

At the conclusion of the presentation ceremonies at city hall, members of Lowell Post, 57, American Legion, will escort Commander Owsley to the Auditorium. The street parade will include a platoon of police, color guard, the Legion and civilians, and as a special feature will have in line the Fifth Infantry band from Camp Devens, fifty pieces strong, which will play popular selections during the period of march and also give a concert program on the Auditorium grounds, beginning at 7 o'clock.

The banquet will take place in the main hall at 6:30 o'clock and will be followed by brief post-prandial exercises. At 7:45 o'clock, the doors of the memorial structure will be thrown open to the public for the general reception, and the colonel, a recognized orator of ability, will address the assemblage. It is expected that seats will be at a premium after 8 o'clock.

Besides Col. Owsley, the public will be given an opportunity to hear Dr. Kate W. Barrett, the national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, and Count Carlo di Robilant, an Italian naval officer, now associated with the Heine Electric Co. of Lowell.

Among the incidental but nevertheless important features in connection with the colonel's visit will be the presentation from the chamber of commerce and the Rotary club, of a huge chest containing products of local mills and factories.

The Chamber-Rotary chest, made by the Olds Allen Box Co., contains the following list of Lowell-made products: Ammunition, United States Cartridge Co.; socks, Brown Hosiery Co.; blankets, Tremont and Suffolk mills; blankets, Massachusetts Mills; velvet, Merrimack Mfg. Co.; flannel, Stirling Mills; pattern for overcoat, Merrimack Woolen Co.; gingham, Hamilton Mfg. Co.; photo of Auditorium, The Marion Studio; combs, the Ideal Comb Co.; silver plate for chest, Prince-Cotter Co.; slippers, J. S. Turner Co.; hose, Shaw Stocking Co.; ladies' silk stockings, Lawrence Mfg.

TRIO OF AUTOMOBILE QUIT

ACCIDENTS REPORTED

There were three automobile accidents last evening, but fortunately not one was of a serious nature. The first one occurred in Gorham street near the corner of South Highland street, when Ralph Castles, aged 8 years and residing in Lawrence, was struck by an automobile operated by Clifford Watson of 48 Wilson street, North Billerica. At St. John's hospital, where the lad was taken, it was found that he was suffering from a deep laceration on the forehead.

An automobile operated by Edwin Smalander of 230 Lincoln street, struck Loretta Hardman, aged 8 years, of 113 Lincoln street, in front of her home. The child was injured about the head and was treated at St. John's hospital. The third accident occurred in Concord street when Miss Dean, a little girl residing in the Melville district, was struck by an automobile. The child sustained bruises about the body and a fractured ankle. She was treated at St. John's hospital. The name of the driver of the car could not be learned.

WILL PROSECUTE BOYS WHO DEFILE CEMETERIES

Chairman William H. Rigby presided over the regular meeting of the cemetery commission, held last yesterday afternoon in the mayor's reception room at city hall. A matter of vital importance that was brought to the attention of the commissioners was the desecrating of the Edison cemetery ground by boys, who were seen gambling and playing ball there. It was announced that a close watch will be made on the grounds and all intruders will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Routine business was transacted and it was announced that as soon as six inches of loan has been placed on top of the 17 acre lot of land adjoining the cemetery and owned by the Francis Bartlett estate, the tract will be purchased as an annex to the cemetery. The next meeting of the commission will be held in August.

Box of candy, D. L. Page Co.; note-books, Allen Dumas Co. For the banquet, a special table will be reserved for the "gold star" mothers, wives and next of kin. Tickets still are available at the Auditorium office.

SAILORS DESERT BECAUSE THEY

ARE GRANTED BETTER CONDITIONS ON U. S. SHIPS

LONDON, July 12.—The reason that British mercantile marine sailors desert their country's ships for American is because they are granted much better conditions, according to a reporter for the Daily Herald, the labor organ, who visited the Leviathan yesterday. In long talks with men in all sections of the ship, he said, he found that conditions on the Leviathan were much better than those of British ships. "We were treated like men," one of the stewards said. The Leviathan's men get at least 75 per cent. higher wages than their colleagues on British ships.

BAR SALE OF BEER AND WINES IN MANITOBA

WINNIPEG, Man., July 12.—The electorate of Manitoba has expressed its unalterable determination to prevent the resumption of anything approaching the old style of drinking across the bar, by defeating yesterday with a comfortable majority the proposed sale of beer and light wines with meals in licensed hotels. The dry forces have an estimated majority of about 25,000.

The proposal was sponsored by the Beer and Wine league, with the backing of the Hoteliers' association. The vote yesterday was about half of that polled three weeks ago when the plan for the moderation league for government sale of all liquors for beverage purposes won by a majority of 40,000. The total vote then was 165,000.

LOWELL MAN REGAINS HEALTH

Overcomes Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles With Dreco

If you haven't health you are going through this world under a handicap that seriously affects your chances in this race to the top in the business world. Health is your most important asset—guard it. Let DRECO help you like it has thousands of others.

Mr. Albert Plckett, well known in and around Lowell, for years endured all the suffering that comes from had stomach, liver and kidneys. He tried many different medicines, hoping that he would find relief. But none of them helped him.

"My stomach and liver and kidneys were in such a bad condition that I was sickly most of the time. My entire system was run down, completely wrecked by my troubles."

"All the medicines I took failed to help me, but their failures only makes DRECO'S success the more remarkable."

"After taking two bottles of this wonderful remedy I felt fine. All my old troubles disappeared. I was a new man, with a stomach that worked fine, a healthy liver and kidneys that did not give me the least bit of bother."

"It is the only medicine I ever saw or heard of that really helps a person bothered with the troubles that kept me in a state of suffering so long."

Statements like this from persons right here in our home town should do much to convince people of the true merits of DRECO. This remedy does not contain mercury, potash or harmful minerals, nor anything that affects the heart, but is composed of the juices of many different herbs, roots and leaves, which act on the vital organs.

Call today at Green's Drug Store and ask to talk with the expert from the Dreco Laboratories. He will gladly tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy. Also he will honestly tell you whether or not he thinks Dreco will benefit you. Also Dreco is sold in Nashua by Nashua Drug Co., 175 Main St., Adv.

INCREASE IN MOTOR FATALITIES

The statements of Supl. Atkinson of the police department relative to reckless and incompetent drivers and the amazing disregard of the rules of the road, resulting in numerous accidents, fatal and otherwise, should be heeded by the people of this community.

The superintendent refers to the responsibility of parents in allowing their children to run at large during the day and play on the streets in the path of rapidly moving motor vehicles. There is no doubt whatever that many parents are criminally negligent in allowing their children to play on the streets in the face of such extreme danger. The fact that we have had nine deaths from motor accidents since the first of the year, whereas we had only six deaths from such accidents during the twelve months of last year, shows an increase in carelessness, or else in the number of reckless and incompetent drivers, or perhaps in both.

Registrar Goodwin makes the alarming statement that there are 80,000 unlicensed operators running automobiles in this state and that about one thousand whose licenses have been revoked are still surreptitiously using the public highways. This statement of Supl. Atkinson should have the effect of causing the operators of motor vehicles to be more careful and should also cause the parents of young children to keep them out of danger. In the interests of the public, no law abiding citizen should be a party to allowing an unlicensed or incompetent driver to operate any motor vehicle. By pursuing any different course, they make themselves participants criminals, although they would hardly care to share the penalties of such an offense.

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN SCANDAL

Following the administration scandals of Teapot Dome, Newberryism, Daughertyism, Nat Goldsteinism, Laskerism, and the wholesale discharges of faithful and efficient aged officials in the bureau of engraving and printing, there is now the prospect of another major scandal involving the administration in the recent forced resignation of Arthur Powell Davis as director of the reclamation service. The present secretary of the Interior, Dr. Hubert Work, who is responsible for ousting Director Davis, has earned an unenviable reputation as a partisan reactionary politician, both in the Postoffice department and in the Interior department.

It is openly asserted that Director Davis was forced to resign at the instance of large power companies in the west. His record shows that he has always opposed the predatory interests that have sought to gobble up the country's natural resources. Director Davis is credited with carrying out in letter and spirit the great conservation and reclamation program conceived by the late Senator Francis P. Newlands of Nevada, a democrat, and later adopted and enforced by President Roosevelt and continued under Wilson.

Engineering societies, representing 50,000 engineers, have taken preliminary steps for an investigation of this new administration scandal which on its face is characteristic of the administration of the Interior department under Richard Ballinger in the Taft administration and Albert B. Fall of the present Harding administration.

The situation in regard to reclamation is rather embarrassing for President Harding, a fact which has been made apparent by his rather weak defense and his effort to straddle the issue in a manner that might reassure the western farmers as the parties principally interested. In his speech at Spokane the president said he had been pleased to bring the subject of extended reclamation to the consideration of congress mindful of the fact that from the national viewpoint, reclamation must be considered as an investment which will bring compensating results to the government.

The record shows that President Harding favored reclamation when he was a candidate before the people and that he has not fostered the movement since being installed in the White House with official authority and prestige to carry out the policy he had made when seeking the support of the people. In his first campaign he said "we must make the mountain west a country of homes for people who need homes," and that "the work of reclamation must be done so that it will insure most to the advantage of society." In the same speech he drew a vivid picture of the west as a "wonderland" resulting from irrigation and he commended Roosevelt's declaration that "it is better for the government to help the poor man make a home for his family than to let him help the rich man make a profit for himself." The principle of reclamation to down in Lake Erie in order equally sound policy, and candidates to give his commands. Great, both at Harding, referring to Roosevelt's words, "We have seen," he said, "the work of reclamation as a sort of millions of new American families."

In spite of these encouraging words, President Harding has done nothing to promote the movement for irrigation of the arid areas in which he referred. Instead of expediting the Smith-McNary bill, which would appropriate $25,000,000 for the purpose, the republican congressional leaders gave preference to the president's slipshod policy of making a bonus bill authorizing the payment of nearly one billion dollars in subsidies to private individuals and interests operating vessels purchased from the government at a mere fraction of their value, and also giving preference to the bill authorizing a loan of five million dollars to the black republic of Liberia in Africa. Moreover, when western senators in September of last year sought to force the adoption of the Smith-McNary bill, Senator Curtis of Kansas, the republican whip and mouthpiece of the administration, made a bitter speech against the bill which resulted in having it put aside, while other measures might be considered. Now the president again takes a stand in favor of reclamation for the very transparent reason that he is catering for the votes of the arid west. Already the people of the west understand President Harding and they can fully appreciate his equivocation on the important question of reclamation affecting a very large area that has been appealing for government aid to

THE GOLD SUPPLY

In New York the other day a bank moved 292 million dollars through the streets. Under guard of machine guns, this gigantic sum was transported on 14 trucks. The transfer took place when a hold-up would have been most difficult—in the rush hour, when streets were packed with traffic.

The 292 million dollars were in the form of negotiable securities. Multiply the value by 15 and you'd have all the monetary gold in the world. In a rough way this gives the average person a concrete idea of the more or less intangible gold toward which he is subconsciously working.

The world's total holdings of monetary gold (for money purposes) now total nine billion dollars. Another 10 billion dollars of this precious metal is tied up in jewelry, etc.

In other words, there's only about $10 of gold in the world for every man, woman and child. And yet we are so fondly concentrate in this $10 system, our whole scheme of values and measures of value. This requires a lot of self-hypnotism of which, however, there's never a shortage.

HIGHEST HEROISM

No greater heroism can be imagined than that shown by Lieut. Null in helping the rich man make a profit for himself by jumping out of the basket of an army's command. The principle of reclamation to down in Lake Erie in order equally sound policy, and candidates to give his commands. Great, both at Harding, referring to Roosevelt's words, "We have seen," he said, "the work of reclamation as a sort of millions of new American families."

SEEN AND HEARD

"Will youth be served at Boyle's thirty across tonight?"

All the most of us ask for in life is a square deal—from the other fellow.

This is outing day for the store clerks. May they all enjoy the time of their lives.

Many a peacemaker airs up more trouble in a neighborhood than a dozen gossips.

Perhaps it is better to follow something blindly than never to follow anything at all.

Many local fans are pleased at the prospect of a new Twilight league holding forth on the South common.

Jesse Furber signified his return to the management of the Worcester team by "canning" a couple of pitchers. The old boy is running true to form.

The day the kiddoes and many of the grown-ups have been looking forward to with pleasant anticipation comes tomorrow. Parents will have little difficulty getting the youngsters to roll out of bed in the early hours, for the chance to carry water to the elephants and other little enjoyments of circus day are sufficient incentive for an early exodus from between the sheets.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The rising tide of automobile fatalities gives rise to the suggestion that there should be a tightening up of the requirements before a license to drive is issued, as probably, some examination of applicants for licenses to determine whether their bump of caution is sufficiently developed.

It will be interesting to Lowell people to know that Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president of the American legion, who is scheduled to come here tonight with Commander Owsley, was one of the four women who witnessed the signing of the peace treaty at Versailles. Dr. Barrett was engaged in special governmental work in France during the war.

CADETS ANTICIPATE CAMP OPENING

A meeting of the O.A.U. Cadets has been called for tonight at Y.M.C.A. hall for the purpose of cleaning up minor details in connection with the annual encampment at Millis's grove, which will open next Monday.

CADETS ANTICIPATE CAMP OPENING

The first group of Cadets will go to the grove Sunday to prepare the grounds for the remainder of the troop. This work will be under the direction of Joseph Boyd, Sr., quartermaster of the troop.

Tom Sims Says

Gov. and Mrs. Cox to Visit Provinces

BOSTON, July 12.—Gov. and Mrs. Channing H. Cox will leave Boston tomorrow morning to take part on Tuesday, July 17, in the celebration at Pictou, N. S., of the anniversary of the first immigration of Scotchmen to the Provinces on the ship "Hector" in 1773.

Gov. Cox has been invited to speak at the celebration and Mrs. Cox has been designated to represent the Society of Mayflower descendants. On their way to Pictou they will visit St. John, N. B., at the invitation of Premier Veniot of New Brunswick. A reception and dinner have been arranged for Saturday.

After the celebration at Pictou, Gov. and Mrs. Cox will go to Halifax, N. S., on the U.S.S. Reuben James, which the navy department is sending to Pictou for the celebration, and which has been assigned to transport the governor. At Halifax he is to meet the members of the Massachusetts relief committee and review the committee's work there. After leaving Halifax the party is to journey through the Annapolis valley, sailing home from Yarmouth, N. S., on July 21.

The invitation to the celebration was extended by Hon. E. H. Armstrong, premier of Nova Scotia. The governor stated yesterday he regrets that he has been unable to accept the invitation of the premier of Prince Edward Island to visit that province and that he has been obliged to decline many invitations sent from the local communities.

The Canadian club of Boston, through a committee composed of Messrs. D. H. Rose, John F. Masters and J. Ernest Kerr, have arranged the details of the trip and the committee will be with Gov. Cox during the time he is in the provinces.

Daniel Rose, chairman of the celebration committee from the Canadian club of Boston, and Sculptor John Wilson, designer of the statue of "A Scotch Immigrant," to be unveiled at Pictou, both sailed yesterday for Nova Scotia on the Yarmouth boat.

Mr. Wilson, who is an instructor at Harvard University School of Architecture, is a native of Glasgow, Scot. His statue is nine feet in height and with the pedestal weighs 32 tons.

HAVERHILL FACTORY IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

HAVERHILL, July 12.—Fifteen thousand persons were thrown out of work temporarily by a fire here yesterday which destroyed the Thom building, factory building and cut off power transmission to five nearby factories. The fire loss was estimated at $30,000.

Clifton Hoyt, a member of the Haverhill fire department, was critically injured soon after returning to the station from the fire. In bringing down dry hose from a tower a pulley fell 50 feet, striking Hoyt on the head and fracturing his skull. The building destroyed was owned by Greenbaum & Schiff, the principal losers. Two shoe factories in the block, Beuner & Broady and the Broad Shoe company, also suffered.

The power was cut off when a large transmission belt running from the Schiff power plant to several factories was burned. It was said that it would take at least two days to replace it and permit the factories to resume operations. The fire was said to have been caused by a cigarette dropped to the roof of a wooden building near the Thom building.

Berton Bralcy's Daily Poem

Alive and Kicking

Babylon is wrecked and gone,
Trampled in the mire;
Troy is thrust into the dust,
So are Thebes and Tyro.
Dead long since are clown and prince,
Prophet, profiteer;
All that crowd in cities proud—
You and I are here!

What they wrought or how they fought,
What they dreamed and did,
Learned chaps may find, perhaps,
In some pyramid.
Though we read of thought and deed,
Of each by-gone year,
THIS is more engrossing lore,
You and I are here!

Potentates of ancient states
Give us quite a thrill,
Yet, somehow, we are just now
More important still!
Empires vast from out the past
Rise and disappear,
Kings are clay but—well, today,
You and I are HERE!

SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS, WITH MANY NOVEL FEATURES HERE TOMORROW

There are all sorts of interesting things for the girl performers with Sells-Floto circus to do when they are not working in their acts, and Bee Starr finds Prince, the star brin in "A Night in Persia," the gorgeous spectacle of the show, a wonderful pet-affectation, playful and with a gift for the snappy retort, expressed with quick shoves of his clownish snout.

When Sells-Floto comes to Lowell tomorrow you'll see the two stars, Bee and Prince. Bee Starr is one of the five girl aerial stars in the two Flying Ward troupes, and he is known on the lot as "the Shooting Starr," while Prince stars in the great spectacle and in the menagerie, especially when someone comes along with crack-jack. Prince is an old trapper, and he's been cutting crackjack for years, but never has he had his fill.

Riding acts may come and riding acts may go, but it is not likely that anything so unusual as the equestrian of fering of Joe Hodgini, Belgian comic of the sawdust ring, will be seen in America for years to come. Hodgini and his family have been imported by the Sells-Floto circus, and they have bags of tricks that are entirely new to the big top fans in this country.

There are three girls in the troupe— Irene, Etta and Rose Hodgini, and they seem fairly to bound from the ground to the backs of their racing steeds and from horse to horse, while somersaulting atop their mounts is to them merely warming up exercise. They've been at it since they were babies-in-arms, almost, and that's the reason, of course. The girls are wild about America, and in each city played by the circus, they insist on "making" parade that they may see more of the town. Between shows, one is likely to see them riding street cars to the ends of the lines, for their interest in everything American seems limitless. They know more about the United States cities they have been in than most of the circus people who have been trouping through them for years.

and, on the other that the communist government may be justified, from its standpoint, in maintaining semi-martial law in some districts.

American and other foreigners who spend a few weeks or months in Russia find everything moving forward apparently smoothly under the communist dictatorship, sometimes go home and report that everything is contented with the present state of affairs. This seems true in Moscow and other central Russian cities, but a careful day-by-day perusal of the official newspapers shows that every now and then a plot pops up, and that an undercurrent of opposition, weak but persistent, is running beneath the surface in many provinces.

One reads laconic announcements that two persons have been shot here, another three, some more in another place, for counter-revolutionary activity or participation in "banditry." This in the Ukraine and Cossack regions is just another name for roving armed opposition to the red army.

Once in a great while some announcements of more important plots, such as the one recently discovered in Georgia. This resulted in the execution of 15 persons and had as its aim the separation of the entire Caucasus from Soviet Russia.

These counter-revolutionary activities are nothing like as widespread as a year or two ago, but they are sufficiently important to keep the secret police and the red army constantly on the watch.

BRAZIL'S FUEL IMPORTS INCREASE

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 12.—Although the greater part of Brazil lies within the tropics, one of the greatest problems involved in the country's economic expansion is that of fuel supply. In 1922, according to official figures published here, Brazil spent approximately $27,000,000 on imported fuels.

The principal difficulty in the way of developing known sources of fuel in Brazil at present is the lack of transportation facilities. Coal mined in Brazil now costs more in this market than that imported from England or the United States.

DISCONTENT LESSENS IN SOVIET RUSSIA

MRS. EARLS TELLS WOMEN

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Olean, N. Y.—"Every month my blood would go to my head and I would have such a headache, nosebleed, backache and pains that I could not do my work. At night I could not get my rest and nothing seemed to do me any good. I read some of your testimonials about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, so I decided to try it. I had only taken two bottles when I began to be better, and my back did not hurt me nor my head ache. I felt like a new woman. The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and I will always recommend it."—Mrs. A. D. EARLS, 530 N. 5th St., Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. Kelsey adds her Testimony
Copenhagen, N. Y.—"I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now I can do my housework and help my husband out doors, too. I am willing for you to publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. HELEN KELSEY, R. F. D., Copenhagen, N. Y.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. You can get Multisified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months.

SEVEN INDICTED IN PROBE OF BROKERS

NEW YORK, July 12.—Acting Federal Attorney Clark yesterday announced that sealed indictments were returned 10 days ago by the federal grand jury charging use of the mails to defraud against Edward M. Fuller, William F. McGee, Charles H. Clarkson, John C. Feeley and James Minnaugh, stock brokers, William J. Fallon, a lawyer, and Charles W. Rendigs, a juror, also were indicted.

charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice and with giving and taking a bribe.

The indictments, it was announced, were returned after an investigation of six weeks into the affairs of Chas. H. Clarkson & Co., brokers. It was declared E. M. Fuller, confessed buckster, and his partner, William F. McGee, had been instrumental in forming the Clarkson firm.

It was pointed out that Fuller some weeks ago promised to make a full statement in regard to the affairs of his own firm, provided he was granted full immunity. This was refused by United States District Attorney Hayward because the brokers' connection with Clarkson & Co. was already under investigation.

James Minnaugh, it is alleged, was a member of the firm of Hedberg & Co., another brokerage house, and that through him Hedberg & Co. assisted Clarkson & Co. in trading against customer orders.

The bribe alleged to have been given by Fallon to Rendigs, the juror, amounted to $1000 and it is charged was passed for a verdict of "not guilty" Nov. 6, 1922. It is further charged that in offering and giving the bribe Fallon was acting in behalf of Alfred Dew Blum, one of the defendants. Blum is not named in the new indictments.

The indictments naming Fallon and Rendigs were said to be in connection with a trial of Durrell Gregory & Co. and others, charged with using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of stock of the American Tire Corporation.

Mr. Clark said he was sure Rendigs and Fallon would surrender tomorrow. Fuller and McGee already are in Ludlow street jail for contempt of court.

As to the others named, Mr. Clark said he had no doubt they would appear voluntarily. The 11 counts of the indictments, naming the five brokers were found on

BANKERS WILL STUDY MANY BIG PROBLEMS

CLEVELAND, July 12.—Whether or not branch banking in the United States should be encouraged, will be the subject of debate between the chapters from Boston and Philadelphia of the American Institute of Banking at the twenty-first annual convention of that organization here July 16 to 20.

Agriculture and its relation to all other interests, will be the subject of an address by E. T. Meredith of Des Moines, at the general sessions of the institute.

One of the features of the convention will be the reunion of the pioneer members who were responsible for its organization in 1908 in this city and who were active in its development through the first five years of its existence. There will be conferences on various banking subjects. There are ten general subjects and there will be 15 of these conferences in addition to the two general business meetings.

Alexander Dunbar, of Pittsburgh; J. P. Freiberger, Cleveland; Alfred T. Hunt, Scranton, Pa.; O. Howard Wolf, Philadelphia, and C. E. Hazelwood, Chicago, will make addresses at the various conferences, while Carter E. Talman, president of the American Institute of Banking, and John H. Pusell, of the American Bankers' association, will address one of the general sessions.

Dissolve

Just pour Rinso into a saucepan and add boiling water. It dissolves instantly and makes a good thick soapy solution. Use enough Rinso to get rich lasting suds.

Use enough

Then fill the tub half full with lukewarm water. Pour the thick soap solution into your tub and whip up the suds at once. Put your hand through the suds into the water—if you have used enough solution the water will feel soapy all through. Even after you have put your clothes into the tub, the suds should stand up. If they do not, add more Rinso solution.

With this new kind of soap soaking takes the place of rubbing—

Simply soaking in Rinso suds loosens dirt.

The old wearing method of rubbing soap on the clothes and then rubbing the clothes is done away with.

Rinso has brought about this great change. So rich in pure soap it has more cleansing power than bar soap. Yet, so gentle and mild it lets soaking safely do the work of rubbing.

Only the dirtiest places—where dirt was actually rubbed in—will need just a light rubbing.

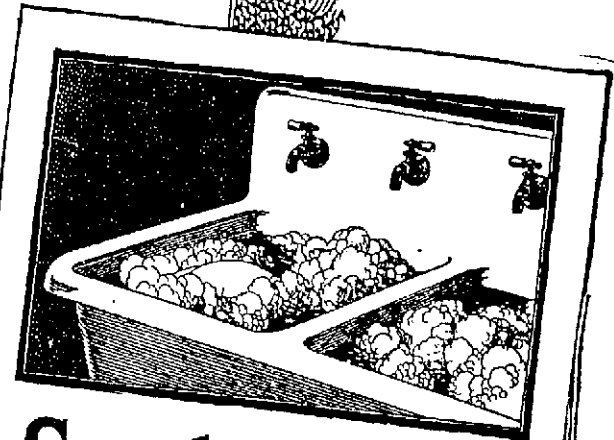

Where this light rubbing is necessary just sprinkle on a little dry Rinso.

Whichever way you do your wash, use Rinso instead of bar soap. It is wonderful for just soaking in regular stationary tubs. It is as fine for boiling. And it is perfect for washing machines. You need no soap powder or other soap with it. Rinso does the whole job.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux—the largest soap makers in the world. It does the family wash as wonderfully as Lux does fine things. Now you no longer have hard rubbing even for the big family wash any more than you do for fine fabrics. Both you and your clothes are spared that steady wear and tear.

All grocery and department stores have Rinso in two sizes, regular and big new package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Soak

Soak your clothes in these lasting suds for an hour or two—overnight, if you wish. (Colored clothes not longer than half an hour.)

This soaking takes the place of rubbing. It loosens the dirt so that it rinses right out—you'll find that only neck bands and cuff edges and seats and knices of children's playclothes need any rubbing. For this light rubbing just sprinkle a little dry Rinso right on the fabric.

"Don't rub your youth away"

70,000 EXPECTED TO WITNESS WILLARD-FIRPO BATTLE TONIGHT

MEN FROM ALL PARTS OF WESTERN HEMISPHERE TO ATTEND BOUT

Modern Gladiators, One From the Prairies of Kansas and the Other From Far Stretches of Argentine Will Stake Their Pugilistic Futures in 12-Round Match in Picturesque Setting of Arena at Boyle's Thirty Acres at 10 O'Clock Tonight

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 12.—(By the Associated Press.) Two modern gladiators, one from the prairies of Kansas and the other from the far stretches of the Argentine, will stake their pugilistic futures tonight in a 12-round match in the picturesque setting of the arena at Boyle's Thirty Acres.

For Jess Willard, the man mountain who held the championship of the world from 1915 to 1919, it will be the last fight in the come-back by which he hopes to obtain a return match with his conqueror, Jack Dempsey. For Firpo it will be the critical point in one of the most sensational careers of ring history, a stepping stone, if he is victorious, to a chance at Dempsey's throne.

70,000 Expected at Ringside

A colorful crowd of probably more than 70,000 fans, including nobles of society, business public life and pugilists, men from all parts of the western hemisphere, was expected to witness the combat.

Advance ticket sales had passed the 35,000 mark last night and indications were that this figure would be more than doubled by the time the fight program begins at 8:45 p. m. daylight time. Gates to the arena were to be opened at 5 o'clock this afternoon, simultaneously with the opening of the sale of tickets for unreserved areas, where about 30,000 can be accommodated.

Both Fit For Battle

Both fighters today were declared to be fit for their greatest efforts of their unusual careers and experts who weighed pro and con the rugged youth, punch and aggressiveness of Firpo against the generalship, power and gameness of Willard, regarded the outcome as a tossup. A Willard up-purcut or a Firpo right swing, both of which have landed before with devastating effect, may decide the issue.

Willard's 40 years or so seemed to weigh lightly on his huge frame as he went through his final limbering up exercises. The big Kansan was the picture of confidence and good condition. He believed that he has overcome the handicap of four years of ring idleness and entertains no doubt that he will regain the crown he lost.

Firpo passed last night in New York after breaking camp at Long Branch, N. J. He, too, is the personification of confidence. Trained down to the minute, this dark-skinned product of the Pampas has been converted, chiefly by expert handling but also through natural aptitude, from a primitive brawler into a two-fisted fighter. Since the first sprang into prominence last year, no opponent has lasted the limit under his smashing attack. He has never met a boxer of Willard's caliber before but he has demonstrated his possession of all the requisites of a first class ring man.

Interest in Semi-Final
Though overshadowed by the main bout, the semi-final contest of 12 rounds between Floyd Johnson, of Des Moines, Ia., and Jack McAuliffe II, of Detroit, has attracted considerable interest. These young heavyweights were knockout victims of Willard and Firpo, respectively, at the Yankee Stadium two months ago, but since then they have shown marked improvement in form and see victory tonight as a stepping stone to pugilistic height to come.

Three other bouts between heavyweights are on the card, the most interesting of which is an eight-rounder between Cliff Kramer, of Seattle, and Tiny Jim Herman of Omaha.

Weather predictions contain a possibility of rain today with probably fair skies tonight. Should inclement weather force a postponement, Promoter Tex Rickard will hold the show tomorrow night.

DIAMOND SEEKS BOUT IN New York—Wants to Meet Johnny Buff

Word has reached this office from New York to the effect that Al Diamond, Lowell's sensational flyweight who has been mingling with the top-notchers of his division in the metropolis for the past two years, is anxious to display his improved wares before a Lowell audience. Although a youngster, Diamond has had considerable experience in fight circles and created quite a sensation in the Big Town with an uninterrupted series of successes against opponents of reputed strength. It is several years since Al pushed the leathers in this city. For two seasons past he has been in the same stable with Henry Leonard and Frankie Leone under the expert tutelage of Billy Gibson. Under Gibson's management, Diamond has boxed and scored victories over Battling Murray, Fritz Bird, Billy Bell, Tiny Trinkle, Victor Ritchie, Johnny Rose, Kewpie Williams, Joe Dundee, Marty Silvers and others of equal prominence. His one desire at present is to meet Johnny

AL DIAMOND

Buff, former holder of the fly and bantam weight championships of the world. Diamond will be at the ringside at the Queensboro A. C. open-air show in Long Island next week to challenge the winner of the scheduled Johnny Buff-Henry Catena bout, which goes fifteen rounds to a decision. Catena, by the way, has turned down three previous invitations to mix matters with Diamond, who weighs in the vicinity of 112-pounds ringside.

Since Diamond got in the boxing game, he has engaged in more than 70 contests and has yet to experience the sensation of a knockout. Outpointed a couple of times, he was never decisively beaten. He lost to Steve Gustin in Boston some time ago, but showed considerable stamina by staying through eight rounds with a jaw which was fractured in the second round of the milling. At Yonkers, N. Y., some time later, a fractured jaw again cost him a decision, this time over Buddy Young.

It has been suggested by a group of Diamond's local friends, that Cecil P. "Deak" Dodge, Lowell promoter, arrange an open air card at Spalding park with Diamond and Johnny Buff as the feature attraction. It will be recalled that Al and Billy Murphy put up two of the best exhibitions two years ago that Lowell fans have ever witnessed, and Diamond has shown considerable improvement in the meantime. Diamond is ready. All that is needed now is a promoter.

NATIONAL CLAY COURT TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 12.—(By the Associated Press.) Play in the quarter finals of the men's singles in the national clay court tennis championship was resumed today. Second round play in the doubles matches and second round play in the boys and junior tournaments also were started. Only eight players remain in the men's singles. In the first match of the day, Manuel Alonso, Spanish Davis cup champion, will meet Howard Kelsey of San Francisco.

Ralph Ruddleck and Fritz Bastian of Indianapolis, last year's winners in the doubles matches, are to meet Jack Harris and John Weber of Chicago in the second round of play in the doubles contest.

CONTRACT FOR SALE OF RED SOX SIGNED

BOSTON, July 12.—The sale of the Boston American League club has been completed. After an all day discussion of details by Pres. H. H. Frazee, Falmes, A. Winslow and Robert Quinn, representative of the Ohio syndicate, with Thomas J. Barry and Ripley L. Dana, legal advisors of the contracting parties, with Pres. Dan Johnson of the American League as an observer, an agreement was reached about 5 yesterday afternoon, and the contract signed. All that now remains is the arranging of some routine details connected with the final passing of the papers.

Neither side would state the amount of money involved in the transaction, although Pres. Frazee said, last night, that he received the price he has been asking all along, which has been $1,250,000. Possibly this was shaded somewhat when the compromise stage of the proceedings was reached, but those who should have an inkling of the facts intimate that about $1,200,000 is the price.

"Robbie" Quinn, who is to be the new president of the club, and who, like Mr. Frazee, knows the exact amount, declined to give any information, saying he did not think the public would be interested in the matter, and that both sides had agreed not to disclose the amount.

It is expected that the new owners will assume control of the club August 1.

Quinn Silent as to Plans
Mr. Quinn was not prepared, last night, to discuss the plans of the new owners after they assume control. He declared that he will get some time in looking over the situation before any changes are made. He is going back to St. Louis to close up some personal affairs, and expects to return to Boston the latter part of this month, and make Boston his permanent home.

Mr. Quinn said that he has always had a hankering for an interest in the Red Sox and was at one time considering a proposition to come here as a manager, when John A. Taylor owned the club.

Umpire Quigley Recovers From Injury

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—Improvement in the condition of Umpire Ernest Quigley, injured yesterday while officiating behind the plate in the first game of a double-header between Philadelphia and Cincinnati, was reported today. He was knocked out by a foul ball from the bat of James Caveney, Cincinnati shortstop. The blow raised a big lump on the left side of the veteran umpire's head. Physicians said Quigley would be back in the game within two weeks.

Quigley was greatly pleased over the completion of the deal. Dr. Drury, another member of the syndicate, is in Canada on a fishing trip. Pres. Dan Johnson and Harry Frazee have bread together at the Coplay-Plaza, and both were as affable as long lost brothers. President Johnson was the guest of Mr. Frazee, as were Sport Hermann of Chicago, a large stockholder in the Boston club; John C. Heyer of the Federal National bank of Boston, and others.

The men from out of town started for New York on the midnight train.

Fans Well Pleased
BOSTON, July 12.—Boston fans who have become a bit wearied of seeing the Red Sox last in the American League standing expressed great interest today in the news that a Columbus, Ohio, syndicate would take over the club on August 1. Robert J. Quinn, former business manager of the St. Louis Americans who is to be the new president of the Boston club, cautioned them not to expect too much immediately.

"My idea of baseball," he said, "is to give the home fans the prettiest treatment possible. My idea of a real ball club is one that is carefully constructed around some honest big league material, and the Red Sox of today must have some of that talent. You cannot make a good ball club in 15 minutes. If anyone thinks I have brought three or four star players to Boston, in my vest pocket, he is mistaken."

STOREHOUSE BURNED
BALDWINVILLE, July 12.—The storehouse of the A. L. Adams Paper Co. here was burned early today. The frame building contained a large stock of finished and unfinished paper, and a considerable amount of sulphur. In the absence of Mr. Adams, no one connected with the company was prepared to estimate the loss.

DUNDEE FAVORITE IN BOUT WITH CRIQUI

NEW YORK, July 12.—With Eugene Criqui and Johnny Dundee down to hard work for their championship battle for the featherweight title at the Polo Grounds on the night of July 26, speculation as to the outcome of the match is stirring. The first bet recorded has made Dundee the favorite. The wager was recorded at odds of even to five, much to the surprise of those who saw the Frenchman in his sensational victory over Johnny Kilbane. Dundee, it is explained, is made the favorite because for the first time in several years he will meet an opponent at his natural weight. For years Dundee has been conceding weight. He has met and held his own with some of the best lightweights, including Champion Leonard. When Dundee met Danny Brush a year ago he weighed 124½ pounds.

Dundee's Italian-American friends are getting together a pool to back their favorite and declare that they will accept all bets offered on the Frenchman. It is believed, however, that before the men enter the ring Criqui will be at least an even money choice.

Tom O'Rourke, matchmaker of the Polo Grounds Athletic club, yesterday announced the full card of preliminaries to the Criqui-Dundee match. The semi-final will be eight rounds between Johnny Curtin of Jersey against Danny Edwards of California. Leon Poutet, a protégé of Criqui, will meet Pat Mills of Ireland in a second eight-round bout. Tony Vaccarelli of New York will clash with Jackie McCoy in a six-round contest and the opening bout of four rounds will be between Charles Glasgow of Chicago and Davy Jones of New York.

though in his sixteenth year in the big show.

Condition has made over these three players. All of which merely strengthens the belief that a college trainer would help a major league club by watching closely the condition of his charges.

Says the Veteran Motorist:

"I WANT to say right here that the attitude most motorists have toward the traffic officer is absolutely wrong. The majority of drivers imagine that he is always out to get them. Nothing of the sort.

"His job is to keep the highways safe for everybody. He's out to keep you from endangering the lives and limbs of others. And he's out just as hard and just as long to keep the other fellow from banging you up. He may call you down one minute and then save you a nasty smash-up at the hands of some novice or dare-devil just behind you.

"One of the best scouts I ever met is a traffic officer and a few incidents that he and others have told me make me feel like taking my hat off to the whole bunch of them. If you want my honest opinion of it, I think it's a wonder that they manage to keep so courteous, considerate and fair—considering what they have to put up with day in and day out."

CINCINNATI WINS TWIN BILL AND MOVES INTO SECOND PLACE

RED MENACE APPEARS TO CHALLENGE NEW YORK GIANTS

Double Victory for Pat Moran's Cincinnati Team Brings Shakeup in Standing—Pirates Drop to Third Place—Four Teams Fighting for Third Place in American League

NEW YORK, July 12.—A Red menace has appeared to challenge the rule of the world's champions to the league leadership, for Pat Moran and a boyie from Cincinnati today are occupying second place as the result of a double victory over Philadelphia yesterday by scores of 6 to 2 and 8 to 6. But the task of the Reds is a little harder than that of Pittsburgh as the teams stood Monday. The jumbo lead in games then was three and one-half; today it is five. They triumphed over Pittsburgh, 6 to 3, yesterday.

When Grover Alexander is in good form there can be but one result to ball game—victory for his team. Yesterday was one of those days and a Chicago Cubs reversed the result Tuesday by shutting out Brooklyn, 10 to 0. St. Louis again defeated Boston, 10 to 4, making it three in a row.

The feature of the American league does not concern the league adding Yankees, who with a lead of games are too far out in front to interest. The Hugmen won another close game from the White Sox yesterday and Cleveland strengthened its hold on second place, getting another verdict over the Athletics. The Indians now have a lead of three games over Connie Mack's aggregation. The real race in the Johnson circuit now is for third place, with four teams bunched for the position. The Detroit Tigers who have been losing a lot of games recently have shown some improvement and yesterday by taking both ends of a double header from the Boston Red Sox, went into a tie with the Athletics for third place. The White Sox are only one and one-half games behind and the St. Louis Browns, despite the absence of George Sizer since the beginning of the season, are trailing the White Sox by only six points.

The western teams again outplayed the eastern wings in both leagues yesterday, the Giants and Yankees being the only clubs of the east to win. Yesterday there were six home runs but they were all in the American league, and made by two clubs, three by Detroit and three by St. Louis. No National league player was able to hit for the circuit yesterday. The total home runs up to yesterday were National league, 391; American 228.

OMMEL'S WORK HURTS ATHLETICS

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—"If Ed Ommel had shown the form this year at he did last season the Athletics would just about be out front," opined Connie Mack. "Ommel was the one pitcher on my staff at I banked on at the start, yet he has been the least consistent performer. Naylor, who recently suffered setback because of a wrenched knee, supplanted Ommel as my ace for a time being at least. A return to normal form by Ommel is necessary we are to stay up in the race." The disappointing showing of Ommel this season is all the more unusual because of the big year he had 1922. Last year Ommel won 27 meg with a seventh place club. The Athletics won only 65 games, so that Ommel was practically 50 per cent of a pitching staff. At one time of the race he turned in nine straight wins. Ommel is far from an impressive pitcher to watch. His best bet is a knuckle or finger-ball, which seems to stagger through the air on the way to the plate. This delivery is invariably a ball if waited out. His fast ball is hittable speed. Some of the experts are inclined to the belief that opposing teams are taking Ommel this year, and after getting him in the hole, pick on the fast ball cripple when he tries to get it over.

EBBETS RESCUES DROWNING MAN

NEW YORK, July 12.—Charles H. Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn club of the National Baseball league, played the role of a model hero yesterday when he rescued Harry Margol of Brooklyn from drowning at Manhattan beach. Ebbets, who was about to take a plunge, heard Margol's cry for help,

DON'T MEASURE STAR BOBBY JONES SEEKS BY STRIKEOUTS NATIONAL GOLF TITLE

By BILLY EVANS
A right arm that is in its tenth year of major league service that has never been afflicted with a kink and has only once been below the 500 mark hangs from Edward Joseph Pfeffer's 200-pound frame.

"Just a little common sense in the spring and in the summer," is the prescription presented by the giant right-hander, now a member of the St. Louis Cardinals staff. Pfeffer engages in physical training in the spring at least two weeks before he attempts to twist a curve. Pfeffer exerts himself only in a pinch. Strikeouts mean nothing to him. He works on the theory that he has eight other players to help him.

In other words Pfeffer advises: "Don't wear yourself out on each batter. Mix 'em up and don't call upon all of your power and strength until they have you where you have to keep them from scoring one run."

Works On His Batter
"I keep them away from the batter's favorite spot with slow curves and only an occasional fast one. The arm catcher. Mix 'em up and don't call upon all of your power and strength until they have you where you have to keep them from scoring one run."

His trade to the St. Louis Cardinals during the summer of 1921 proves the uncertainty of baseball marketing. Branch Rickey, always a fond admirer of Pfeffer as a pitcher, dickered with the Superbas and eventually landed him, but paid Ferdinand Schupp and Harold Janviri.

Kicker Made Good Trade
When the exchange was completed it looked as if the Superbas had the edge as Schupp was pitching winning ball and Janviri was a valuable utility player. Rickey, however, expressed being perfectly satisfied with his bargain.

Pfeffer, in 1922, won 19 games and lost 12, ranking seventh in the league. Schupp and Janviri have passed down to the minors.

The only season Pfeffer failed to win more games than he lost was in 1917 when his record showed 15 victories and 16 defeats. His pitching total includes 141 victories and 94 defeats up to this season.

Pfeffer was born at Rossmore, Ill., March 4, 1888, and after serving one season with Grand Rapids in 1913, advanced to the major circuit.

AMATEUR BASEBALL
The Merrimacks and St. Peter's Cadets will cross bats at Shepley park Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The following Merrimacks are requested to report at 1:15: Connors, Quinn, Cashman, Willard, Donnelly, McClusky, McDermott, Nestor, Regan, F. Donoghue, McVey and Bill Conlon.

The Mass. mills baseball nine will meet the strong Southparks, formerly St. Peter's Cadets, on the South common Thursday evening. The Mass. battery will be Connors or Mulno and Riley, catch. Pop Williams, Allen, Souza and other well known Twilight players will be seen in the Massachusetts uniform.

The Southparks will present their usual strong lineup with Reagan, Crowe, Gath, McAdams as stars.

The Southparks defeated the Rovers on the South common last night by the score of 12 to 5. Regan pitched the first three innings for the Southparks and he held the Rovers scoreless. Nelson twirled the remainder of the game and he gave a good exhibition. George Carl caught a fine game for the winners. Tonight on the common the Southparks will meet the Massachusetts Mills team, as the Willie Stars, who were originally scheduled to meet them, have withdrawn from the game.

INWOOD, N. Y., July 12. (By the Associated Press).—Robert T. (Bobby) Jones of Atlanta, whose golf has been reaching closer and closer to the top with the passing tournaments, launches another rally for national title honors today in the fourth and final qualifying field for the 1923 open championship.

Last year at Skokie, he shared second honors with the veteran professional John Black, with a card of 355, one stroke behind Gene Sarazen's winning 358. Bob Cruikshank of the Shicknocks club at Westfield, N. J., was drawn as Jones' partner for the round today.

Jesse Guilford, of Boston, former amateur champion, paired with William Brand, of upper Montclair, N. J., and Jim Barnes, the lengthy Delham, N. Y. pro, who won the open title at Columbia in 1921; John J. Farrell, the youth pro of the Quaker Ridge club at Haverhill, N. Y.; Richard Walsh, national public links champion, and Chas. Hoffer of Philadelphia, are other stars.

Puzzling Play's By Billy Evans

The Play
What are the rights of the coach? A play came up in a minor league game last summer that brought up the point as to whether the intent of a coach must be given consideration.

With two out and runners on second and third, with the ball in the pitcher's possession while standing on the rubber, the coach at third dashed for the plate yelling "Home! Home!" His intent was to draw a throw from the pitcher.

The pitcher stepped off the rubber, intending, perhaps, to throw the ball home, but seeing it was the coach's running, made no play.

The umpire declared the runner on third out because of the act of the coach. He held that if the coach attempted to draw a throw because of his actions the runner on third is out whether or not a play is made.

The Interpretation
The umpire was wrong in ruling the runner on third was out because of the coach's dashing toward the plate, because no play was made. The rule states he must draw the throw to the home base for the runner to be declared out.

If such a play came up in a game in which I was the umpire I would suspend the play and send the coach to the bench or the clubhouse.

In medal play, Smith hands in his card, on which a mistake has occurred. He plays the round of 15 holes in 97. His handicap is 16. He turned in his net total as 80 instead of 81. The mistake is later discovered by the official in charge. Is a player penalized for turning in an incorrect score for the round?

There is no penalty for such an offense as above stated. The player is to merely turn in his score for each hole. Often players, in order to find out their actual net score, complete the card by adding the scores for each hole and subtracting the handicap. A mistake in addition or subtraction is always possible. The player is not supposed to do this. It is the duty of the official in charge. When such a mistake has been made, the official checking up the cards simply places the correct total on the scorecard.

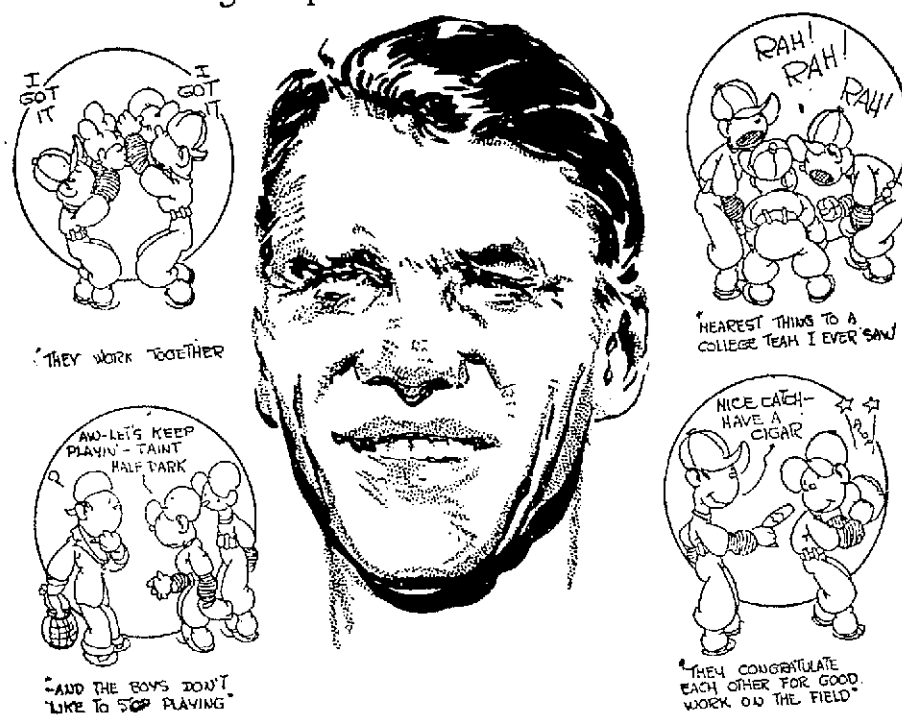

What is supposed to be the regulation size and weight of a golf ball? The ball must not weigh over 1.62 ounces avoirdupois and the size not less than 1.62 inches in diameter.

College Spirit Wins for Mackmen

ANDY SMITH

BY BILLY EVANS
Andy Smith, famous football coach of the University of California, is as strong for baseball as the gridiron sport.

Recently while umpiring at Philadelphia I bumped into Smith before the game. Andy was merely attending in the role of spectator. Said he was curious to see how the Athletics were winning so many ball games.

A lot of other Philadelphians are just like Smith. They wonder how Mack's club is doing it and then journey out to Shibe Park to get a closeup for themselves. Curious folks have made big business for Connie Mack this year.

The Athletics won the day the famous football mentor was looking them over. Cleveland was beaten in a great game, in which Mack's team came from behind to win. Smith is an analyst, a close student of sport. That is one reason why he has been so successful as a football coach. To him there is a reason for everything.

Have Fighting Spirit
After the game I looked up Andy

to get his version of why Connie Mack's young club almost overlooked at the start of the season, is now regarded as the sensation of the American league race.

"The Athletics win because they hustle from the start to the finish. It's a club with the old fighting spirit that doesn't know the meaning of defeat," said Smith.

"Mack's club is the nearest thing to a college team I ever saw. You wouldn't think his club was paid real money to play, rather you would think the players were in it for the fun of playing and the glory of winning."

"Did you notice the good feeling that existed, how each player was constantly encouraging the other. Took me back to the old college spirit to see the Athletics put the fellow on the back who made a good play and say a lot of nice things to him."

"That fellow they call 'Sparkplug' Matthews deserves the title. He's not only a player but a cheer leader as well, for the Athletics. He just bubbles over with enthusiasm that is contagious. It has spread to the rest of the club. That's one big reason why Mack's club has suddenly jumped from a near tallender to a pennant contender."

"The Athletics play as if they win."

ed a ball game consisted of 15 innings instead of nine. Ordinarily most professionals would be perfectly satisfied if the game only required seven innings.

Athletics Have Color
"I am no Connie Mack when it comes to judging ball players, but after looking his team over I wouldn't call it a great club. It's a good club that has no outstanding star like Cobb or Sizer, yet it has the spirit, the desire to win and that makes it a dangerous ball club."

"The Athletics of 1923 have far more color than Mack's old time crowd clumps. There is a dash to the play that Mack's former great teams lacked. Better yet it is a young club that should continue to improve."

"It wouldn't surprise me in the least if Mack gave Philadelphia another world's championship in 1924, positively not later than 1925."

There you have the opinion of one of the greatest football coaches of modern times, as to why the Athletics are starting the baseball world. A man who can turn out great football teams like Smith does, is worth while listening to even when he discusses baseball.
